TERRIFIC FIGHTING ON THE EASTERN FRONTIER.

Austria Says Russians Are in Flight; Berlin Claims Capture of 30,000.

Fresh Bodies of Germans Appear, Withdrawn from the West to Re-Inforce Lines.

Terrific fighting continues on the Austro-Russian frontier. Both the combined Austrian and German forces and the Russian armies claim an advantage.

Berlin reports the capture of 30,000 Russians.

From Austrian sources it is stated that the Russians are being pursued in the direction of Lublin in Russian Poland. Earlier advices from St. Petersburg stated that the Austrians were active chiefly in the vicinity of Lublin.

A news despatch from St. Petersburg says the Russian advance in east Prussia is proceeding and repeats an earlier Russian claim of successes in Galicia.

Fresh forces of Germans have appeared on the Prussian frontier, according to a British official report. This bears out recent statements from Belgium that the Germans were withdrawing troops from their western front to re-inforce the Austro-German lines in the east.

Up to late today no official announcements had been made at London or Paris. News despatches indicate that the Germans are pressing toward Paris and that one army is within 60 miles of the French capital.

Paris is preparing for a siege. Outgoing trains are filled with non-combatants, while troops from the south and west are arriving to re-inforce the garrisons already in the ring of the city's fortifications.

Dover reports that firing, seemingly from vessels along the French coast, was heard there this morning.

DECISIVE BATTLES RAGING.

Russians Pursued by Austrians in Direction of Lublin.

BERLIN, August 28, via Copenhagen and London, August 31.—The following account of Austrian operations has been secured in Berlin from an official Austrian source:

"In the Austro-Russian theatre of war decisive battles have been in progress for several days. Our forces, which were victorious near Krasnik, pursued the Russians in the direction of Lublin. The Austrians advanced also into the enemy's territory between the rivers Bug and Wieprz, and we have taken positions in front of Zamoso. Other contingents of the Austrian army hold their positions north and south of Limber. Emphasis is placed on the word decisive in this official report.

"A correspondent of the Berlin Tageblatt at the Austrian headquarters, telegraphing under date of August 28 regarding the events subsequent to the defeat of the Russians at Krasnik, says the Austrian army advanced in the direction of Lublin with the object of making it possible for the Russians to operate there.

HIGH OFFICERS AMONG THEM.

About 3,000 Russians Taken by Germans in East Prussia.

BERLIN, August 31, by wireless to the Associated Press, via Sayville.—It was officially announced here today that about 3,000 Russians had been taken prisoners by the Germans during the fighting in East Prussia, particularly at Ortelsburg, Hohenstein and Tanenburg. They include many officers of high rank. The German attacks at these points was across swamps and lakes.

TOTAL OF CASUALTIES.

Number of Germans Dead 1,143, Wounded 3,326, Missing 1,761.

BERLIN, August 30, via Copenhagen and London, August 31.—The twelfth list of German losses was made public today. It contains 1,006 names. The total of German casualties made public up to the present time is as follows: 1,143 dead, 3,326 wounded and 1,761 missing.

No news from either of the German fronts had been given out up to midnight. As an evidence of the enthusiasm of the German people in the war, it is announced here that 2,000,000 volunteers have presented themselves for service. As the result of the patriotism shown by the socialists of Germany, the Anti-Socialist Association has ceased its activities, at the same time expressing the hope that it will not have to resume after the war is over.

Baron Kurt von Lersner, second secretary of the German embassy at Washington, has reached Berlin by way of Gibraltar. He ran great danger at Gibraltar of being arrested by the British and detained during the war. Nothing has been heard here of Lieutenant Baron Horst von Lersner, a brother of Baron Kurt, and also attached to the German embassy at the American capital.

Mails from the United States, which during the first days of the war collected on the frontier, are now being distributed.

Despatches from London and Paris, which at the beginning of the war predicted the rapid disintegration of the military power of Germany, have been received in Berlin and are humorously commented upon by the German staff.

COMPLETING PLANS FOR THE DEFENSE OF PARIS.

Troops Arriving from South and West, Occupying the Forts.

Thousands of Persons With Their Families Preparing to Leave.

PARIS, August 31.—All night long troops from the south and west of France have been arriving at the capital and passing by rail around the city to the locations in the encircling fortifications to which they have been assigned. There is great activity on the part of the municipal military administration in completing the details of the plan for the defense of Paris.

The unusual animation to be noticed on the streets of Paris today was caused chiefly by the thousands of persons who are prepared to leave the capital. People are departing and taking their families with them as a matter of prudence. It is felt here that the fewer the number of non-combatants in the city the better. Tickets for trains leaving Paris today to the west and south were all sold out last night.

No official information regarding the military situation at the frontiers had been made public up to noon today.

Lines of people stretch for blocks from the railway station today. The lines were composed of those so anxious to leave that they thus early took their positions, waiting for the ticket offices to be opened at 6 o'clock. All places on trains departing today have been sold. Whole families with their handbags camped in the lines, where they ate their means and slept as best they could.

The Quai d' Orsey station was closed at noon. The crowd of perhaps 1,000 persons then in line there were told that no more tickets would be sold today. Only a few left their places. The others resigned themselves to a wait of 18 hours.

President Poincare, who has been seen out rarely in public since the war began, being overburdened with work, today visited the military hospital of St Martin and spoke to many of the wounded. An immense crowd outside the place respectfully saluted the chief executive as he arrived and departed.

FRENCH SITUATION GRAVE.

Two German Armies Attacking Forces from East and West.

LONDON, August 31.—The Post today editorially calls attention to a statement issued by the French embassy as indicating that the allied forces have again been compelled to fall back before the German advance in the neighborhood of La Fere, which is over 20 miles nearer to Paris than the Cambrai-le Cateau line, where the allies re-organized after the Germans crossed the French border. Fighting is also reported in the vicinity of Amiens. La Fere is only a little more than 60 miles from Paris as the crow flies.

The Post says: "A statement issued by the French embassy discloses a situation of much gravity. A German army was Saturday attacking from the east the line on Launois-Signy-L'Abbaye, while another German army was attacking from the west the line from La Fere to Guise, and, though unsuccessful at Guise, was making progress at La Fere. CONGRESS PRESENTS A SUBSTANTIAL QUORUM.

More War Emergency Legislation to be Disposed Of.

Wilson May Soon Speak on Special Internal Revenue Tax.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—Congress today presented a substantial quorum to dispose of additional war emergency legislation. A definite program will be determined upon at a Democratic conference. The scope of the war revenue measure to offset the decrease in customs receipts will be decided and some phases of the situation in the Far East, growing out of hostilities between Japan and Germany, also may be considered.

President Wilson upon his return from Cornish probably will address Congress upon the proposal for the special internal revenue tax. Indications today were that beer, domestic wines and patent medicines will be subjected to increased taxation. Phases of the situation in the Far East that probably will be discussed by the conference include a plan to halt exports from the Philippines to all points except the United States. It has been suggested that an embarrassing situation might arise if island shipments consigned to Japan or Germany should be seized by warships of one of the belligerents.

The Senate war risk insurance bill, passed by the House with amendments, went to conference today. It was believed that there would be an early agreement on the measure and that it would be in force before the end of the week. The measure would establish a government marine insurance restricted to risks of war.

Legislation to establish a fleet of government merchant ships was to be pressed this week. House naval affairs committeemen will confer with the President over a plan to abandon the House measure proposing creation by the government of a private corporation to operate a line of federal steamers. They will urge as a substitute, a bill to appropriate $30,000,000 for naval auxiliary.

The conference also will determine upon a definite program for trust legislation. It was predicted that the railroad securities bill would not be pressed at this session.

APIA SEIZED BY BRITISH.

Surrenders to Expeditionary Force Sent by New Zealand.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—The British capture of Apia, German Samoa, was announced in the following message from London to the British embassy today:

"The secretary of state for the colonies has received a telegram from the governor of New Zealand stating that Apia, in German Samoa, surrendered at 10 a. m. August 29 to an expeditionary force sent by the government of New Zealand."

GUNS ONLY FOR PROTECTION.

Special Board of Neutrality to Decide Status of the Adriatic.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—The status of White Star liner Adriatic of the British naval reserve, which reached New York Saturday with guns mounted and a small quantity of ammunition on board, will be determined by the special board of neutrality of State and Navy Departments. A telegram was received today at the Treasury Department from Collector Malone at New York, announcing the arrival of the Adriatic and saying that her captain declared the guns were carried only for protection and the steamer would leave New York September 3.

AN IMPOSING CEREMONY.

Conclave of Cardinals to Elect Successor to the Pope Inaugurated.

ROME, August 31.—The conclave of the cardinals to elect a successor to Pope Pius X, who died August 20, was inaugurated today with imposing ceremonies. Mass was celebrated in the Pauline chapel in the presence of 57 cardinals and their conclavists. There were present also members of the diplomatic corps, the Knights of Malta and the aristocracy of the Papal court. The Sistine choir sang the Middle Mass and Monsignor Massella delivered in Latin an oration concerning the election of a Pontiff.

ORIGIN OF FIRE UNKNOWN.

Factory Boarding House at Forestdale, North Smithfield, Destroyed.

WOONSOCKET, August 31.—The wooden factory boarding house at Forestdale, North Smithfield, the Forestdale Manufacturing Company owner, Michael McCann, lessee, was destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this morning. The company's loss on buildings is $4,500, and McCann's loss on furniture $1,500, all insured. The origin of the fire is unknown. A fire in one of the rooms was put out Sunday afternoon. This morning flames broke out in the opposite side of the building and is now burned to the ground. The structure, which once housed 60 people, recently sheltered but eight boarders. It will not be re-built.

PROBATE COURT.

Copy of Will and Codicil of Henry Bedlow Allowed and Recorded.

In the probate court this morning an exemplified copy of the will and codicil of Henry Bedlow and the probate thereof was allowed and ordered recorded. The will was made April 29, 1911, and the codicil October 2, 1913. Mr. Bedlow died at Monte Carlo May 25, 1914, and the will was probated July 14 last, Cortland Betts and Elizabeth Bayliss, the latter of New York, being appointed executors. Under the will testator said he had not exercised certain rights and in consequence certain property known as 325 Greenwich street and certain securities would go to his daughters, Harriet Hall Morris and Alice Prescott Mayer, and he therefore made no provision for them. All the rest of his property, including that in this city, he left to Elizabeth Bayliss of New York, whom he had considered his adopted niece, in consideration of the care she had shown him. In the codicil he recites that his daughter, Mrs. Mayer, having died, and he having contested her will, he therefore left everything he possessed to Elizabeth Bayliss, who was then not fully compensated.

The first and final account of the executors of the estate in Rhode Island of John Pierpont Morgan was allowed.

Inventories were allowed on the estate of Joseph G. Pina $274.25, Guiseppe Ciarlone $592.90, Martha T. Southwick $17,440.17 and Hannah Walsh $500.

The petitions for removal of the guardian of Nella W. Hartshorn, and for sale of real estate of Nicholas Underwood, were continued for further hearing.

FOR RED CROSS RELIEF.

Additional Contributions and Final Disposition of Money to be Decided.

The auditing committee of the executive committee for the recent Red Cross bazaar—Messrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Ogden Mills and Henry F. Eldridge—met this morning to go over the accounts of Mr. Lawrence L. Gillespie, treasurer of the fund. At another meeting, late this afternoon, it is expected that a statement of all receipts and expenditures will be made, and some decision reached as to the final disposition of the money and what proportion of the fund shall be laid aside for the relief of the families of reservists of foreign countries who remain in the United States, some of whom are reported in needy circumstances.

Mr. Gillespie, the treasurer, has received additional contributions, aggregating $3,000, since the bazaar at "The Breakers" Friday. These were $1,000 each from Mrs. E. J. Berwind, Mr. Harry Payne Whitney and Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt. Mrs. Vanderbilt having previously given $500. This brings the total of contributions considerably above $25,000, and it is confidently expected that the total amount raised for the Red Cross will reach $40,000.

Mrs. Herman Oelrichs has turned in $2,200 as the result of sales at her booth, and Mrs. French E. Chadwick $700 in profits from her stall. All the returns have not yet been made to the executive committee.

WELL KNOWN IN NEWPORT.

Body of Mr. George Pepper Norris Brought Here for Interment.

The body of Mr. George Pepper Norris, who died Sunday in Gloucester, Mass., was brought here today for interment in the Island cemetery. A prominent lawyer of Philadelphia, he was well known in Newport. He married a daughter of the late Mrs. Joseph G. Johnson, who owned a cottage on Bellevue court, which was purchased by Mr. E. J. Berwind and torn down, several years ago. Through his wife he was closely related to the Powels of this city and had been a frequent visitor here for a number of years, sometimes occupying a cottage and at others visiting Mrs. Johnson. He had been here but little in recent years.

The funeral party, which came from Gloucester and included Mrs. Norris, was met at the depot by Mr. P. H Powel. The funeral will take place Tuesday.

POLICE NOTES.

The police, mindful of the demands of war, had little news today. For Sunday morning their report showed two revellers, each of whom paid $7.60. A woman, charged with being a night walker, was placed on probation. This morning a man, for an assault Sunday on Touro street, paid $12.60.

Mr. Henry J. Hass reports that one of his plate glass windows was broken Saturday night, apparently by a drunken man falling against it.

Sergeant Conroy has gone on the sick list. He reported Sunday night and was on duty a while, but was obliged to quit.

Mr. Edward Land lost a skiff June 19. A similar skiff has been found in Providence and Sunday Mr. Lang went to Providence and identified it as his. Two young men will probably be prosecuted in consequence.

Saturday night Mr. J. Alton Barker's automobile was stolen from its regular parking place on Washington square near the Miantonomi. Club. It was found on Braman's court. This is a new industry—taking automobiles.

TERRIFIC FIGHTING ON THE EASTERN FRONTIER.

up to Paris," says the Chronicle's Amiens correspondent. General Paul Pau, the hero of the war, after his swift return from the eastern front, where he repaired the deadly check at Muelhausen, has dealt a smashing blow at the German army corps, which was striking to the heart of France. Paris is still safe for the time being, with the great army of the allied forces as a barrier, which surely will not be broken by the enemy. I have been all through this war zone during the past fortnight and nothing I have seen or heard from either the British or the French leads me to believe that our army has been smashed or that the allies are demoralized.

"Retreats, which seem fatal when seen close at hand, are not altogether disastrous in their effect when viewed from the proper prospective. As a matter of fact the German audacity of attack is leading them into a position from which there will be no retreat if their lines are cut.

"When the Germans swept around Lille they found to their amazement that this town, surrounded by forts, had been abandoned. This easy access to a town which could have been defended to the last gasp opened the way to the west of France. The fact was that the controlling brain of General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, and his headquarters staff had decided that the northwest corner of France was untenable and the main army of defense should be drawn into closer and stronger positions. It was then that the great game among the populace of the affected district began. The flight of thousands of families was an enormous tragedy. They still are being hunted from place to place, finding no shelter and no permanent safety. The railway trains are choked with them. Long fugitive trains of foodless persons spend days and nights on sidings, seeing a route of escape. To all these people it seems as though 1870 has come again.

"When the troops marched away from Boulogne, leaving it silent and unguarded, the inhabitants were utterly dismayed. Rumors were current that the enemy was very close. Can on wonder that the inhabitants rushed out to join the hordes wandering where they knew not."

ROUSSET'S STATEMENT.

Investment of Paris, Should It Occur, Would be Immense Bluff.

PARIS, August 31.—Lieutenant Colonel Leonce Rousset, the military critic, writing for his paper, the Petit Parisien, reassures those who may be frightened by the possible investment of Paris. He declares:

First, that in 1870 the capital was held for nearly five months under conditions much more difficult than those of today.

Second, the Germans had a free disposition, at least as far as Nanteuil sur Marne of the Strassburg-Paris through railroad lines, while at present they have not yet been able to touch the eastern fortified frontier and have been driven back of Mortagne, north of Valenciennes.

Third, their sole line of communication which passed by Belgium is at this point so precarious that it can be destroyed in a moment. The investment of Paris, he declares, if it should occur would be nothing but an "immense bluff," and would soon be interrupted.

RUSSIAN SITUATION EASY.

Reservists Given Leave While Germany Calls Boys to Colors.

LONDON, August 31.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Post, discussing the military situation in Russia, says:

"The relative situations of Germany and Russia after a month of war are shown admirably in contrast by the German action in summoning the school boys to the colors and Russia's decision today to grant six weeks' leave of absence to the reservists of the 1907 term of service. These reservists have recently been with the colors at different depots brushing up their military knowledge preparatory to a call to the front. Today it was found possible to allow them to return home for a nominal term of six weeks. They are to hold themselves in readiness to respond to the next call. It is reported that some of the men took the permission to return home most grudgingly, as they had counted on a quick advance to the front. Russia can thus, in the heat of a hard-fought war, afford to let something like 500,000 mobilized reservists go home again.

"It is significant that in the recent fighting not only the German field forces but the fortress garrisons from Thorn and Graudenz (in East Russia, east of the Vistula) took part with a strong force of heavy artillery. This proves that the Germans are finding a serious shortage as regards men with whom to oppose the invaders.

"The Russian forces are still advancing and for the past three days there has been fierce fighting around Konigsberg. The Russian pursuit was pressed so hotly that some of its cavalry actually entered along with fugitives into the outlying defences of Konigsberg, which they secured. This is, of course, so far removed from the capture of the fortress.

"On the Austrian front substantially things continues. The Russians have taken 2,000 prisoners east of Lemberg and Lwow near Tomacheff, while east of that centre the Fifteenth Hungarian division was surrounded and whole regiments are surrendering. The main objective of the Austrians appears to be Lublin, where desperate fighting is in progress."

MEN TO TAKE PARIS OR DIE.

Efforts Being Made to Inflict Crushing Blow on English Forces.

LONDON, August 31.—The Times correspondent at Ostend records a second visit a conversation with a German officer from Brussels, who said that frantic efforts were being made to effect a crushing blow on the allies especially the English forces. Notwithstanding the success achieved by the German armies, the despatch says, there is a feeling among many German soldiers that they are fighting against too great odds.

Despite all efforts to stop the news from Russia, it is stated information of a disquieting character regarding events there is beginning to circulate. A rumor was current late among the German troops and it was when two days of fighting 50,000 men passed the Meuse at the bridge of Ardenne, at Seilles, between Namur and Liege, en route for German Holland.

The emperor has made it known to every soldier that his orders are to take Paris or die, the despatch concludes.

NEWPORT HORSES ENTERED.

Fine Display and Interesting Competitions Sure to Delight All Spectators.

Mr. John R. Fell Selected to Pick Winners for Hunters and Jumpers at Casino Show.

The eighteenth annual Horse Show, to be held at the Casino September 7-9, has attracted more than 300 entries, a result far beyond the sanguine expectations of the committee. It exemplifies, too, the interest of exhibitors in Newport's notable event, notwithstanding the fact that six or eight other Horse Shows in New York and Massachusetts are scheduled the same week. With such an aggregation of entrants in the 50 or more classes, there is every reason to expect a fine display of horses, which with the various competitions to be decided assures an exhibition calculated to delight the spectators. In many ways, including the high quality of the horses entered, this year's Show promises to be one of the best ever held by the Association.

In the classes for harness horses entries have been made by Miss Ella F. Ivers, New Bedford; B. F. S. Gregory, England; Peter Roche, Leominster, Mass.; "Oakland Farms," Ogden Mills, Elmcourt stables, "Sandy Point Farm," H. A. C. Taylor, Edward B. McLean, Gotham stable, Nicola Coppelli, and Ernst Voigt, all of Newport.

For the hunters in the saddle classes the competitors will be Miss Clemence Chaffis Ridgefield, Conn., Mrs. N. J. Hess, New York; W. M. Ritter, Columbus, Ohio; Glen Riddle Farms, Glen Riddle, Pa.; Miss Ella F. Ivers, New Bedford; Godfrey Preece, Queens, Long Island; A. R. Currier, Providence; George G. Rohlig, Passaic, N. J., and, from Newport, Miss Ethel King, F. Bayard Rives, Elmcourt stables, Edward B. McLean and the Seaweed stables.

The Jumping Classes will have number toppers from the stables of Glen Riddle Farms, Glen Riddle, Pa.; Thomas G. Ashton, Jamestown, and Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Van Beuren, F. Bayard Rives, Edward B. McLean, Seaweed stables, C. L. Ames, John Arnold, Newport.

The fire department class has exhibits from Companies 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and Truck 2. The demand for seats has already begun.

The judge selected to pick the winners in the classes for hunters and jumpers at the Newport Horse Show, September 7-9, is Mr. John R. Fell of Philadelphia. He has been identified for some time with cross-country sport, especially steeple chasing, of which he is an active patron, and has owned several hunters and noted flyers between the flags. Mr. Fell is considered an authority on jumping, which gives every indication of being one of the spectacular features of the Newport Show. He is spending the summer at Narragansett Pier and is well known in Newport.

FAREWELL PRODUCTION.

"The Wolf," a Story of Human Passions and Human Emotions.

For the farewell production the Malley-Denison Company presents the well known drama, "The Wolf." This is a story of human passions and human emotions, powerfully told and typically true, vigorous throughout, at times beautifully drawn, and comes to a strong, tense, logical and dramatic finish. It tells of two men loving in different ways the same girl, an innocent daughter of the desolate open. The struggle of these two men forms three acts of intense interest. Among the personages introduced there are four nationalities and half a dozen types. The story is told directly, with many a touch of sentiment, much elaboration of character and the softening effect of comedy. It has been classed as the best work of that prolific author, Eugene Walters, who wrote "The Easiest Way," "Paid in Full," "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and numerous others.

COMPLETING PLANS FOR THE DEFENSE OF PARIS

man armies were therefore only 40 miles apart.

"The German army, attacking on the front at Guise and La Fere, has clear country behind it and a sharp offensive turning movement on the southeast by this army will interpose it between the French and Paris."

Germans Taking Offensive Against Russians at Some Points.

LONDON, August 31.—An official telegram received in London declares that fresh forces of Germans have made their appearance on the Prussian front and that at some points they are taking the offensive against the Russians.

Recent reports from Belgium have told of the movement of German troop trains east, indicating that the German staff was withdrawing certain forces from their western front to re-inforce the German and Austrian armies in East Prussia and Galicia. Berlin and St. Petersburg reports agree that there has been terrific fighting in those districts for several days.

AS A PRECAUTIONARY MEASURE.

France Considering Moving Seat of Government to Bordeaux.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—France is considering the advisability of moving the seat of her government from Paris to Bordeaux as a precautionary measure, according to official advices received today.

OFFICERS DESIGNATED.

Three to Go to Austria-Hungary and to Two With British Army.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—Three American army officers to go to Austria-Hungary as military observers and two officers to go with the British army were designated today by the War Department. Major Joseph H. Ford, one of the medical corps now in London, Captain Austine McIntyre of the field artillery, who went with relief cruiser Tennessee, and Captain Berkley Enochs of the infantry, at present in Germany, will go to Austria.

Captain W. A. Castle of the infantry and Captain Alexander Miller of the eleventh cavalry, both at present in Paris, have been designated to accompany the British troops. Germany, Russia and France, so far, have withheld their consent to have American observers accompany their armies.

ROCHAMBEAU LEAVES HAVRE.

Few Complaints Heard from the Passengers, Mostly Americans.

HAVRE, August 30, via Paris, August 31.—French line steamer Rochambeau left August 30, repatriating 900 Americans. Few complaints were heard from the passengers regarding "the glorified steerage." Those who were compelled to take quarters in the steerage have the same privileges as other passengers.

Americans coming from Switzerland gave interesting accounts of the trip.

Edwin Beach of New York said: "Great praise must be given to the American consul general, Davis F. Wilber, and his staff, for untiring efforts in behalf of Americans needing help at Zurich."

Mrs. F. E. Bradley of New Haven said the trip from Geneva had been most tedious. "We didn't mind it," she said, "we were so glad to get away. The greatest feeling of unrest pervades the whole of Switzerland. When we arrived at Lyons we found many trains bearing Americans and Englishmen. All sang their national anthems."

BUSINESS SECURITY.

Stagnation in All Countries, Not Insuring This Security.

One of the most important questions of the day relates to the extent to which a government should interfere in the affairs of business. The successful man has always had to run the risk of attack. Safety from unreasonable interference by government or attack by others leads the ambitious man on to his greatest exertions. In some countries, as in parts of Asia, government rapacity has made it dangerous for a man to acquire anything beyond his bare necessities. In such a society, nothing but poverty and business stagnation can exist.

Governmental intervention in the affairs of business should extend only over such things as are necessary for fair publicity and truthful statements. Under such a government, business security is at its best. Individuality and initiative are encouraged; the country is progressive, and its future prosperity is well guarded. But as soon as legislation begins to deprive the producer of a square deal, or where business is "regulated" by people without the experience and necessary training, business security will be transformed into business depression. A government should be limited to its natural functions of just and reasonable legislation for the greatest good of the greatest number of people, and should never show favors in order to "catch votes" or to secure campaign contributions.

In addition to Certain-teed Roofing, we also manufacture a complete line of lower priced roofings, building papers, shingles, sheathing, carpet linings, etc., put up in standard-sized rolls, packages and weights. They are accepted as standard by leading architects and engineers. Your local dealer will be pleased to give you full information about our goods and will quote you reasonable prices. PROBATE COURT.

Copy of Will and Codicil of Henry Bedlow Allowed and Recorded.

In the probate court this morning an exemplified copy of the will and codicil of Henry Bedlow and the probate thereof was allowed and ordered recorded. The will was made April 29, 1911, and the codicil October 2, 1913. Mr. Bedlow died at Monte Carlo May 25, 1914, and the will was probated July 14 last, Cortland Betts and Elizabeth Bayliss, the latter of New York, being appointed executors. Under the will testator said he had not exercised certain rights and in consequence certain property known as 325 Greenwich street and certain securities would go to his daughters, Harriet Hall Morris and Alice Prescott Mayer, and he therefore made no provision for them. All the rest of his property, including that in this city, he left to Elizabeth Bayliss of New York, whom he had considered his adopted niece, in consideration of the care she had shown him. In the codicil he recites that his daughter, Mrs. Mayer, having died, and he having contested her will, he therefore left everything he possessed to Elizabeth Bayliss, who was then not fully compensated.

The first and final account of the executors of the estate in Rhode Island of John Pierpont Morgan was allowed.

Inventories were allowed on the estate of Joseph G. Pina $274.28, Guiseppe Ciarlone $592.90, Martha T. Southwick $17,440.47 and Hannah Walsh $500.

The petitions for removal of the guardian of Nella W. Hartshorn, and for sale of real estate of Nicholas Underwood, were continued for further hearing.

FOR RED CROSS RELIEF.

Additional Contributions and Final Disposition of Money to be Decided.

The auditing committee of the executive committee for the recent Red Cross bazaar—Messrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Ogden Mills and Henry F. Eldridge—met this morning to go over the accounts of Mr. Lawrence L. Gillespie, treasurer of the fund. At another meeting, late this afternoon, it is expected that a statement of all receipts and expenditures will be made, and some decision reached as to the final disposition of the money and what proportion of the fund shall be laid aside for the relief of the families of reservists of foreign countries who remain in the United States, some of whom are reported in needy circumstances.

Mr. Gillespie, the treasurer, has received additional contributions, aggregating $3,000, since the bazaar at "The Breakers" Friday. These were $1,000 each from Mrs. E. J. Berwind, Mr. Harry Payne Whitney and Mr. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Vanderbilt having previously given $500. This brings the total of contributions considerably above $25,000, and it is confidently expected that the total amount raised for the Red Cross will reach $40,000.

Mrs. Herman Oelrichs has turned in $2,200 as the result of sales at her booth, and Mrs. French E. Chadwick $700 in profits from her stall. All the returns have not yet been made to the executive committee.

WELL KNOWN IN NEWPORT.

Body of Mr. George Pepper Norris Brought Here for Interment.

The body of Mr. George Pepper Norris, who died Sunday in Gloucester, Mass., was brought here today for interment in the Island cemetery. A prominent lawyer of Philadelphia, he was well known in Newport. He married a daughter of the late Mrs. Joseph G. Johnson, who owned a cottage on Bellevue court, which was purchased by Mr. E. J. Berwind and torn down, several years ago. Through his wife he was closely related to the Powels of this city and had been a frequent visitor here for a number of years, sometimes occupying a cottage and at others visiting Mrs. Johnson. He had been here but little in recent years.

The funeral party, which came from Gloucester and included Mrs. Norris, was met at the depot by Mr. P. H. Powel. The funeral will take place Tuesday.

POLICE NOTES.

The police, mindful of the demands of war, had little news today. For Sunday morning their report showed two revellers, each of whom paid $7.60. A woman, charged with being a night walker, was placed on probation. This morning a man, for an assault Sunday on Touro street, paid $12.60.

Mr. Henry J. Hass reports that one of his plate glass windows was broken Saturday night, apparently by a drunken man falling against it.

Sergeant Conroy has gone on the sick list. He reported Sunday night and was on duty a while, but was obliged to quit.

Mr. Edward Land lost a skiff June 19. A similar skiff has been found in Providence and Sunday Mr. Land went to Providence and identified it as his. Two young men will probably be prosecuted in consequence.

Saturday night Mr. J. Alton Barker's automobile was stolen from its regular parking place on Washington square near the Miantonomi Club. It was found on Braman's court. This is a new industry—taking automobiles.

TERRIFIC FIGHTING ON THE EASTERN FRONTIER.

up to Paris," says the Chronicle's Amiens correspondent. General Paul Pau, the hero of the war, after his swift return from the eastern front, where he repaired the deadly check at Muelhausen, has dealt a smashing blow at the German army corps, which was striking to the heart of France. Paris is still safe for the time being, with the great army of the allied forces as a barrier, which surely will not be broken by the enemy. I have been all through this war zone during the past fortnight and nothing I have seen or heard from either the British or the French leads me to believe that our army has been smashed or that the allies are demoralized.

"Retreats, which seem fatal when seen close at hand, are not altogether disastrous in their effect when viewed from the proper prospective. As a matter of fact the German audacity of attack is leading them into a position from which there will be no retreat if their lines are cut.

"When the Germans swept around Lille they found to their amazement that this town, surrounded by forts had been abandoned. This easy access to a town which could have been defended to the last gasp opened the way to the west of France. The fact was that the controlling brain of General Joffre, the French commander-in-chief, and his headquarters staff had decided that the northwest corner of France was untenable and the main army of defense should be drawn into closer and stronger positions. It was then that the great panic among the populace of the affected district began. The flight of thousands of families was an enormous tragedy. They still are being hunted from place to place, finding no shelter and no permanent safety. The railway trains are choked with them. Long fugitive trains of footless persons spend days and nights on sidings, seeing a route of escape. To all these people it seems as though 1870 has come again.

"When the troops marched away from Boulogne, leaving it silent and unguarded, the inhabitants were utterly dismayed. Rumors were current that the enemy was very close. Can on wonder that the inhabitants rushed out to join the hordes wandering where they knew not."

ROUSSET'S STATEMENT.

Investment of Paris, Should It Occur, Would be Immense Bluff.

PARIS, August 31.—Lieutenant Colonel Leonce Rousset, the military critic, writing for his paper, the Petit Parisien, reassures those who may be frightened by the possible investment of Paris. He declares:

First, that in 1870 the capital was held for nearly five months under conditions much more difficult than those of today.

Second, the Germans had a free disposition, at least as far as Nanteuil sur Marne of the Strasburg-Paris through railroad lines, while at present they have not yet been able to touch the eastern fortified frontier and have been driven back of Mortagne, north of Valenciennes.

Third, their sole line of communication which passed by Belgium is at this point so precarious that it can be destroyed in a moment. The investment of Paris, he declares, if it should occur would be nothing but an "immense bluff," and would soon be interrupted.

RUSSIAN SITUATION EASY.

Reservists Given Leave While Germany Calls Boys to Colors.

LONDON, August 31.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Post, discussing the military situation in Russia, says:

"The relative situations of Germany and Russia after a month of war are shown admirably in contrast by the German action in summoning the school boys to the colors and Russia's decision today to grant six weeks' leave of absence to the reservists of the 1907 term of service. These reservists have recently been with the colors at different depots brushing up their military knowledge preparatory to a call to the front. Today it was found possible to allow them to return home for a nominal term of six weeks. They are to hold themselves in readiness to respond to the next call. It is reported that some of the men took the permission to return home most grudgingly, as they had counted on a quick advance to the front. Russia can thus, in the heat of a hard-fought war, afford to let something like 500,000 mobilized reservists go home again.

"It is significant that in the recent fighting not only the German field forces but the fortress garrisons from Thorn and Graudenz (in East Russia, east of the Vistula) took part with a strong force of heavy artillery. This proves that the Germans are finding a serious shortage as regards men with whom to oppose the invaders.

"The Russian forces are still advancing and for the past three days there has been fierce fighting around Konigsberg. The Russian pursuit was pressed so hotly that some of its cavalry actually entered along with fugitives into the outlying defences of Konigsberg, which they secured. This of course, is far removed from the capture of the fortress.

"On the Austrian front obstinate fighting continues. The Russians have taken 3,000 prisoners east of Lemberg and 1,000 near Tomaschefi, while east of that centre the Fifteenth Hungarian division was surrounded and whole regiments are surrendering. The main objective of the Austrians appears to be Lublin, where desperate fighting is in progress."

MEN TO TAKE PARIS OR DIE.

Efforts Being Made to Inflict Crushing Blow on English Forces.

LONDON, August 31.—The Times correspondent at Ostend records at second hand a conversation with a German officer from Brussels, who said that frantic efforts were being made to inflict a crushing blow on the allies, especially the English forces. Notwithstanding the success achieved by the German army, the despatch says, there is a feeling among many German soldiers that they are fighting against too great odds.

Despite all efforts to conceal the news from Brussels it is stated information of a disquieting character regarding events there is beginning to create a feeling of anxiety was intensified late among the German forces and this when two divisions, totalling 50,000 men, passed the Meuse by the bridge of Ardenne, at Selles, between Namur and Liege, en route for German Holland.

The emperor has made it known to every soldier that his orders are to take Paris or die, the despatch concludes.

NEWPORT HORSES ENTERED.

Fine Display and Interesting Competitions Sure to Delight All Spectators.

Mr. John R. Fell Selected to Pick Winners for Hunters and Jumpers at Casino Show.

The eighteenth annual Horse Show, to be held at the Casino September 7-9, has attracted more than 300 entries, a result far beyond the sanguine expectations of the committee. It exemplifies, too, the interest of exhibitors in Newport's notable event, notwithstanding the fact that six or eight other Horse Shows in New York and Massachusetts are scheduled the same week. With such an aggregation of entrants in the 50 or more classes, there is every reason to expect a fine display of horses, which with the various competitions to be decided assures an exhibition calculated to delight the spectators. In many ways, including the high quality of the horses entered, this year's Show promises to be one of the best ever held by the Association.

In the classes for harness horses entries have been made by Miss Ella F. Ivers, New Bedford; R. F. S. Gregory, England; Peter Roche, Leominster, Mass.; "Oakland Farms," Ogden Mills, Elmcourt stables, "Sandy Point Farm," R. A. C. Taylor, Edward B. McLean, Gotham stable, Nicola Coppelli and Ernst Voigt, all of Newport.

For the hunters in the saddle classes the competitors will be Miss Clemence Crafts, Ridgefield, Conn., Mrs. N. J. Hess, New York; W. M. Ritter, Columbus, Ohio; Glen Riddle Farms, Glen Riddle, Pa.; Miss Ella F. Ivers, New Bedford; Godfrey Preece, Queens, Long Island; A. R. Currier, Providence; George G. Rohlig, Passaic, N. J., and, from Newport, Miss Ethel King, F. Bayard Rives, Elmcourt stables, Edward B. McLean and the Seaweed stables.

The Jumping Classes will have timber jumpers from the stables of Glen Riddle Farms, Glen Riddle, Pa.; Thomas G. Ashton, Jamestown, and Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Van Beuren, F. Bayard Rives, Edward B. McLean, Seaweed stables, F. L. Ames, John Arnold, Newport.

The fire department class has exhibits from Companies 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and Truck 2. The demand for seats has already begun.

The judge selected to pick the winners in the classes for hunters and jumpers at the Newport Horse Show, September 7-9, is Mr. John R. Fell of Philadelphia. He has been identified for some time with cross-country sport, especially steeple chasing, of which he is an active patron, and has owned several hunters and noted flyers between the flags. Mr. Fell is considered an authority on jumping, which gives every indication of being one of the spectacular features of the Newport Show. He is spending the summer at Narragansett Pier and is well known in Newport.

FAREWELL PRODUCTION.

"The Wolf," a Story of Human Passions and Human Emotions.

For the farewell production the Malley-Denison Company presents the well known drama, "The Wolf." This is a story of human passions and human emotions, powerfully told and typically true, vigorous throughout, at times beautifully drawn, and comes to a strong, tense, logical and dramatic finish. It tells of two men loving in different ways the same girl, an innocent daughter of the desolate open. The struggle of these two men forms three acts of intense interest. Among the personages introduced there are four nationalities and half a dozen types. The story is told directly, with many a touch of sentiment, much elaboration of character and the softening effect of comedy. It has been classed as the best work of that prolific author, Eugene Walters, who wrote "The Easiest Way," "Paid in Full," "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and numerous others.

main armies were therefore only 40 miles apart.

"The German army, attacking on the front at Guise and La Fere, has clear country behind it and a sharp offensive turning movement on the southeast by this army will interpose it between the French and Paris."

Germans Taking Offensive Against Russians at Some Points.

LONDON, August 31.—An official telegram received in London declares that fresh forces of Germans have made their appearance on the Prussian front and that at some points they are taking the offensive against the Russians.

Recent reports from Belgium have told of the movement of German troop trains east, indicating that the German staff was withdrawing certain forces from their western front to re-inforce the German and Austrian armies in East Prussia and Galicia. Berlin and St. Petersburg reports agree that there has been terrific fighting in those districts for several days.

France Considering Moving Seat of Government to Bordeaux.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—France is considering the advisability of moving the seat of her government from Paris to Bordeaux as a precautionary measure, according to official advices received today.

OFFICERS DESIGNATED.

Three to Go to Austria-Hungary and to Two With British Army.

WASHINGTON, August 31.—Three American army officers to go to Austria-Hungary as military observers and two officers to go with the British army were designated today by the War Department. Major Joseph H. Ford, one of the medical corps now in London, Captain Austine McIntyre of the field artillery, who went with relief cruiser Tennessee, and Captain Berkley Enochs of the infantry, at present in Germany, will go to Austria.

Captain W. A. Castle of the infantry and Captain Alexander Miller of the eleventh cavalry, both at present in Paris, have been designated to accompany the British troops. Germany, Russia and France, so far, have withheld their consent to have American observers accompany their armies.

ROCHAMBEAU LEAVES HAVRE.

Few Complaints Heard from the Passengers, Mostly Americans.

HAVRE, August 30, via Paris, August 31.—French line steamer Rochambeau left August 30, repatriating 800 Americans. Few complaints were heard from the passengers regarding "the glorified steerage." Those who were compelled to take quarters in the steerage have the same privileges as other passengers.

Americans coming from Switzerland gave interesting accounts of the trip.

Edwin Breck of New York said: "Great praise must be given to the American consul general, Davis F. Wilber, and his staff, for untiring efforts in behalf of Americans needing help at Zurich."

Mrs. F. E. Bradleye of New Haven said the trip from Geneva had been most tedious. "We didn't mind it," she said, "we were so glad to get away. The greatest feeling of unrest pervades the whole of Switzerland. When we arrived at Lyons we found many trains bearing Americans and Englishmen. All sang their national anthems."

BUSINESS SECURITY.

Stagnation in All Countries, Not Insuring This Security.

One of the most important questions of the day relates to the extent to which a government should interfere in the affairs of business. The successful man has always had to run the risk of attack. Safety from unreasonable interference by government or attack by others leads the ambitious man on to his greatest exertions. In some countries, as in parts of Asia, government rapacity has made it dangerous for a man to acquire anything beyond his bare necessities. In such a society, nothing but poverty and business stagnation can exist.

Governmental intervention in the affairs of business should extend only over such things as are necessary for fair publicity and truthful statements. Under such a government, business security is at its best. Individuality and initiative are encouraged; the country is progressive, and its future prosperity is well guarded. But as soon as legislation begins to deprive the producer of a square deal, or where business is "regulated" by people without the experience and necessary training, business security will be transformed into business depression. A government should be limited to its natural functions of just and reasonable legislation for the greatest good of the greatest number of people, and should never show favors in order to "catch votes" or to secure campaign contributions.

In addition to Certain-teed Roofing, we also manufacture a complete line of lower priced roofings, building papers, shingles, sheathing, carpet linings, etc., put up in standard-sized rolls, packages and weights. DESERT THE NEWPORTS.

Training Station Shifts to Trojans When Newton Falls, and Dixie Fills In.

Both Sailor Teams Beaten, But the Quality of the Play Not Up to the Standard.

With the Training Station scheduled to play the Newports on the Vernon Avenue diamond Sunday afternoon, and after both teams had engaged in preliminary practice, a representative of the Trojans appeared on the field and the Training Station left for Wellington Park, where they were substituted for the Newton Upper Falls nine, which failed to put in an appearance. As a result, neither the Newports nor the Trojans met the teams they were scheduled to play. The Newports had the Training Station, but the Trojans took them away and beat them, while the Newports trimmed the Dixie team, which was on hand.

Several reasons are offered for the non-appearance of Newton Upper Falls, but if is sufficient to say that they did not arive in Newport, and at noon the general rumor was that there would be no game at Wellington park. Later another rumor was circulated to the effect that the Trojans would play the Training Station. Many of the fans of course knew that the Newports had the Training Station scheduled, and did not know what to make of the mix-up.

The fans who went to Wellington park were unable to secure admission until late, and many went away, thinking there would be no game. As a result the crowd there was the smallest in many Sundays. On the other hand, the Newports played before a much larger crowd, which naturally did not see as good a game as was expected.

The sudden shift of the Training Station team also had its effect on the players of both the Newports and the Trojans. Ralph O'Connell, on his way to the Vernon Avenue field, saw the Training Station team bound down town, and upon inquiring found that they were to play at Wellington park. Thinking there would be no game at Vernon Avenue, he did not appear. Among the spectators at the Newport game during the entire contest were "Jakey" Sheehan, the Trojans' star twirler, with "Bert" Carr of the same team. Martin of the Trojans apparently was not notified of the sudden securing of the Training Station, as McCarthy appeared in left field, while Doyle was not present, and his place was filled by Stone and Farland, the latter a former Seaman Gunner player. Daglish, formerly with the Newports, made an unexpected appearance in the box for the Trojans, after a long stay in New Jersey.

For a while it looked as though there would be no game at Wellington park, since Newton Upper Falls was not there, and when the Training Station team arrived from Vernon Avenue only a small crowd was present to see the contest, which the Trojans took by a 6-4 score. The Station sent in their strongest array, but the same cannot be said of the Trojans, who were minus two regular outfielders and their regular pitcher, Sheehan. In his absence Daglish, the former Newport twirler, gave a good account of himself.

The work of the two pitchers, Burns and Daglish, stands out as the feature. Daglish struck out 11 against Burns's 10, while the former Newport pitcher gave no free passes, and Burns issued no less than six. Daglish hit two batters, and Burns one. Burns was touched for eight hits for 10 bases, while Daglish was hit safely seven times for a total of 12. Burn made a home run and a double on Daglish, while the latter, usually a heavy slugger, fanned three times against Burns.

The Trojans secured a big lead in the first inning and held it. On the play on Harvey's grounder Murphy came home. West singled and Smith duplicated, after which West stole home. Harris was out on an infield tap, but Arnold's single scored Smith with the third run of the inning.

Burn's homer in the third was the first Training Station run, the ball sailing over the left field fence. The Trojans made two more in the fifth when West hit one which struck the top of the left field fence, but bounded back. West taking two bases. The last Trojan run was a gift, being forced in as a result of three bases on balls and a hit batsman.

The Training Station picked up towards the latter part of the game, but could not tie the score. Daglish finished well when he struck out Burns and Martino for the last two outs. The score.

When the Training Station team left for Wellington park the Dixie was on hand to offer battle against the Newports, and proved easy picking, the Newports winning, 13-8. George Ney, who was in the box for eight innings hurled unbeatable ball, striking out 16 men, allowing but four hits and three runs. In the ninth the sailors landed on his delivery for five hits, one a homer with two on bases and pounded in five runs in a dying kick, but the Newports were much too far ahead.

The game was featured by the batting of the Newports, who punished

ANOTHER EMBLEM.

[Houston Chronicle.]

Oh, a wonderful tree is the tree of milk
That the colonel found in Brazil,
Its hide is as soft as the softest silk,
And for feed it runs never a bill.
The natives depend on these marvelous trees
In a way that occasions remark;
They thus gather milk and butter and cheese,
And shoes they make from the bark.

Each tree gives to them a respectable roast,
Its steaks have a wonderful charm,
And taste like those others we commonly boast
That are cooked at home on the farm.
The fruit of the tree is the butternut,
The bloom is the fair ox-eye,
And never this tree will kick or butt
Or hook at the passer-by

The milkmaid needs not to call it home,
Its young never goes astray;
It loves to stick in its native loam,
And there is no bill for hay.
Oh, the moose, the donkey, the elephant,
As emblems are fine as can be,
But we long to see on a banner, rampant
The vigorous bull milk tree!

Said the cop: "Next street to the right you'll see two taxis. Take the first one—the other won't be there."

"Shells were falling all around me," he began.

"Yes, Yes! But where were you?" she whispered.

"Out at the ball park," he snickered, reaching for his hat.—[Buffalo Express.

"So you have given your wife your word that you will favor votes for women."

"Yes," replied the man who dislikes argument.

"What are your reasons for doing so?"

DESERT THE NEWPORTS.

Training Station Shifts to Trojans When Newton Fails, and Dixie Fills In.

Both Sailor Teams Beaten, But the Quality of the Play Not Up to the Standard.

With the Training Station scheduled to play the Newports on the Vernon Avenue diamond Sunday afternoon, and after both teams had engaged in preliminary practice, a representative of the Trojans appeared on the field and the Training Station left for Wellington Park, where they were substituted for the Newton Upper Falls nine, which failed to put in an appearance. As a result, neither the Newports nor the Trojans met the teams they were scheduled to play. The Newports had the Training Station, but the Trojans took them away and beat them, while the Newports trimmed the Dixie team, which was on hand.

Several reasons are offered for the non-appearance of Newton Upper Falls, but it is sufficient to say that they did not arive in Newport, and at noon the general rumor was that there would be no game at Wellington park. Later another rumor was circulated to the effect that the Trojans would play the Training Station. Many of the fans of course knew that the Newports had the Training Station scheduled, and did not know what to make of the mix-up.

The fans who went to Wellington park were unable to secure admission until late, and many went away, thinking there would be no game. As a result the crowd there was the smallest in many Sundays. On the other hand, the Newports played before a much larger crowd, which naturally did not see as good a game as was expected.

The sudden shift of the Training Station team also had its effect on the players of both the Newports and the Trojans. Ralph O'Connell, on his way to the Vernon Avenue field, saw the Training Station team bound down town, and upon inquiring found that they were to play at Wellington park. Thinking there would be no game at Vernon Avenue, he did not appear. Among the spectators at the Newport game during the entire contest were "Jakey" Sheehan, the Trojans' star twirler, with "Bert" Carr of the same team. Martin of the Trojans apparently was not notified of the sudden securing of the Training Station, as McCarthy appeared in left field, while Doyle was not present, and his place was filled by Stone and Farland, the latter a former Seaman Gunner player. Daglish, formerly with the Newports, made an unexpected appearance in the box for the Trojans, after a long stay in New Jersey.

For a while it looked as though there would be no game at Wellington park, since Newton Upper Falls was not there, and when the Training Station team arrived from Vernon Avenue only a small crowd was present to see the contest, which the Trojans took by a 6-4 score. The Station sent in their strongest array, but the same cannot be said of the Trojans, who were minus two regular outfielders and their regular pitcher, Sheehan. In his absence Daglish, the former Newport twirler, gave a good account of himself.

The work of the two pitchers, Burns and Daglish, stands out as the feature. Daglish struck out 11 against Burns's 10; while the former Newport pitcher gave no free passes, and Burns issued no less than six. Daglish hit two batters, and Burns one. Burns was touched for eight hits for 10 bases, while Daglish was hit safely seven times for a total of 12. Burn made a home run and a double on Daglish, while the latter, usually a heavy slugger, fanned three times against Burns.

The Trojans secured a big lead in the first inning and held it. On the play on Harvey's grounder Murphy came home. West singled and Smith duplicated, after which West stole home. Harris was out on an infield tap, but Arnold's single scored Smith with the third run of the inning.

Burn's homer in the third was the first Training Station run, the ball sailing over the left field fence. The Trojans made two more in the fifth when West hit one which struck the top of the left field fence, but bounded back, West taking two bases. The last Trojan run was a gift, being forced in as a result of three bases on balls and a hit batsman.

The Training Station picked up towards the latter part of the game, but could not tie the score. Daglish finished well when he struck out Burns and Martino for the last two outs. The score.

When the Training Station team left for Wellington park the Dixie was on hand to offer battle against the Newports, and proved easy picking, the Newports winning, 13-8. George Ney, who was in the box, for eight innings buried unbeatable ball, striking out 16 men, allowing but four hits and three runs. In the ninth the sailors landed on his delivery for five hits, one a homer with two on bases and pounded in five runs in a dying kick, but the Newports were much too far ahead.

The game was featured by the batting of the Newports, who punished

ANOTHER EMBLEM.

(Houston Chronicle.)

Oh, a wonderful tree is the tree of milk
That the colonel found in Brazil;
Its hide is as soft as the softest silk,
And for feed it runs never a bill.
The natives depend on these marvelous trees
In a way that occasions remark;
They thus gather milk and butter and cheese,
And shoes they make from the bark.

Each tree gives to them a respectable roast,
Its steaks have a wonderful charm,
And taste like those others we commonly boast
That are cooked at home on the farm.
The fruit of the tree is the butternut,
The bloom is the fair ox-eye,
And never this tree will kick or butt
Or hook at the passer-by

The milkmaid needs not to call it home,
Its young never goes astray;
It loves to stick in its native loam,
And there is no bill for hay.
Oh, the mouse, the donkey, the elephant,
As emblems are fine as can be,
But we long to see on a banner, rampant
The vigorous bull milk tree!

HOLIDAY STORE CLOSING.

The movement by the Board of Trade to consider some plan for the closing of places of business upon uncertain holidays, in order that store keepers may know in advance what is to be done and plan for it, is a good one. The committee is competent to deal with the situation and its report will probably be a wise one.

Store closing with little excuse has grown to considerable proportions in Newport, and the claim of some dealers that the matter is in danger of being over-done has some force. There is a spirit abroad that those who run our stores—proprietors, clerks and drivers—have too long hours and are over-worked. Whatever may be the truth in this respect, conditions are much easier now than in years not long ago. Formerly those connected with the retail trade not only opened their shops at a very early hour, but every week-day evening was one of confinement. Now many of the stores are open on but two evenings a week, and a Saturday half-holiday is enjoyed by many. Then, again, whatever may be one's opinion of the proper observance of Sunday, the day to a great extent has become one for excursions on trolley or boat, for outings afoot, by carriage or automobile, so that for a large portion of the community every seventh day is a holiday.

It must not be forgotten that stores are conducted for the purpose of selling goods for profit, to pay expenses and support the families of those who run them. Some think that if all the shops in the same kind of business are closed there will be no loss of sales; that buyers who cannot purchase one day will buy the same articles on the next, and so there will be no difference in the end. In some branches of business this may be true, but buying is to a considerable extent a matter of impulse. In many cases, if one postpones a purchase till the next day he loses the desire for the article and finds that he can do perfectly well without it.

There are about half a dozen holidays now observed, which are fairly well divided among the months of the year. For reasons stated it may seem to the committee wise to report that, at least, their number be not increased. One who is thoroughly in earnest in the business of life is not looking for many holidays.

MUNICIPAL PATRIOTISM.

There is need of more patriotism in regard to cities as well as in respect to nations. How many persons are full of love of country, but show little or none for the city or town in which they live. They would resent emphatically any aspersion cast upon the land of their birth, but will cast slurs innumerable upon the place of their nativity. This curious phenomenon can be observed all over the country. Why is it that the same feeling of affection manifested for the nation is not shown toward the city? The latter is as much entitled to consideration as the former and needs as much the support and love of those who live within its borders. There should not be less love of country, but more love of city, and it should be shown more plainly when there is a temptation to deride it.

This does not mean that there should be no criticism of the city in which one lives or of the country where one was born, for there must be deserved criticism if there is to be progress. It should be fair and honest, however, and expressed in such a manner as to show that it is founded upon a desire for the improvement of conditions and not in a spirit of fault-finding. Too many people are inclined to decry the place in which they live. They ignore its advantages and are quick to see and to dilate upon its disadvantages. Such a spirit and its expression do much to retard the development of a city or town. There should be more of local patriotism, of devotion to the city where one has had his birth or which he has made his adopted home. There is room for improvements in every place, but the way to secure these is not continually to complain about the conditions, but to try to do something to make them better. If such an attitude should be assumed by the chronic croakers the places where they live would speedily become more attractive and wholesome places of residence.

DISAPPOINTED IN DISLOYALTY.

The Germans confidently expected that England would be afraid to enter the war, or, if she did, that the Irish would rise in rebellion. On the contrary, a foreign war was the one thing needed to make Irishmen forget all about Ulster and home rule. They also expected the Catholics of France to desert their country, on account of the quarrel between the government and Rome, and there has not been a trace of that. They were confident that the Poles and Finns would rise, though it is not at all certain that the Poles of Russia are any worse off than those of Prussia, while the Finns are too feeble to do anything unless a German army should come to their help, and it is by no means certain that they would take any chances then.

On the other hand, Russia believed that its offer of autonomy to its own Poles would raise revolts among the Prussian and Austrian Poles, but nothing of that sort has occurred. It was thought in England and France that the German socialists would antagonize the war to the extent of disconcerting the plans of the Kaiser, and the socialists are shouting "On to Paris!" as loud as anybody.

The Kaiser still thinks he could start a fire in the rear by arousing the Moslems of India, but he probably could not. He is now trying to persuade the Sultan of Turkey to plunge into the war, mainly in the hope of the influence it might have on the Turk, but the Indian Moslems have already sent the Turks a communication expressing their loyalty to England and their hope that nothing will be allowed to disturb the amicable relations between the Turks and the English.

Religious wars are not now easily aroused, and national feeling, even among persons of different races, is a good deal of a force, while of course there are great dangers in rebellion, which only the desperate will incur. So far the hopes of disaffection, disloyalty and insurrection have been disappointed on all hands, and the indications are that each nation will be able to fight the enemies before it without much apprehension of secret foes in the rear.

THE PROGRESS OF SHIPPING.

Europe is not mentioned in the bill before Congress among the enumerated destinations of the proposed government fleet of freight carriers. Is this to allay apprehensions here and in Europe, or is it merely that the administration does not intend to use the vessels which it desires to buy, in trade with Europe, but desires the way left open? This is done by the words "and elsewhere," after all the ports not likely to raise issues of neutrality and contraband have been mentioned.

There is no sufficient justification for the risks involved in this bill. Our wheat and cotton do not go to South America, and the need of exporting these products is urged as the reason for the unprecedented proposition that the government should go into the ocean-carrying trade. It is quite certain that we cannot carry wheat to England in government ships without angering Germany and probably exciting all German-American citizens. It is equally certain that we cannot carry wheat in government ships to Germany without the protest of England.

There is no such embargo on our exports as should move us to extreme steps. For a time the railroads would not take export grain, because there was no room for storage and ships were not running, but they are running now. In the week-ending August 22 more than 6,000,000 bushels went out from various ports. In half of the following week 1,750,000 bushels went out of New York, to France and Mediterranean ports as well as the United Kingdom.

Every day the shipping situation is improving, but if we sent out only 8,000,000 a week it would remove our surplus in the course of a year. If we can send out grain, we can send out cotton, and more cotton than ever before will be used by our own mills and sent to Japan, because markets which have been supplied by the mills of Continental Europe, chiefly Germany, must now obtain their cotton cloths from other countries. We can well afford to keep clear of any possible entanglements in the war and let England and France send for their wheat and cotton. England must have the wheat or starve; it is for her and not for us to worry.

Now Italy is preparing to enter the general conflict, awaiting a move by Turkey, her latest antagonist in actual warfare. It is said, however, that she is maintaining the strictest neutrality, although the Kaiser is believed to be endeavoring to commit her to agree not to object should Turkey adopt what German diplomacy terms "defensive measures to protect Turkish interests." It is also said that Italy is only awaiting the election of a new Pope to join the war. A high official, who is responsible for this latter prediction, when asked upon which side Italy will fight, replied "She surely will not support Austria. That would mean a revolution." If Italy will not support Austria she cannot aid Germany.

In New York, which is to have a preliminary election campaign this week, preceding the state-wide primaries, there are eight candidates for three party nominations. Governor Martin H. Glynn, John A. Hennessey and Adolf L. Kline are working for the Democratic nomination; District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, Job A. Hedges and Harvey D. Hinman for the Republican, and Frederick M. Davenport and former Governor William Sulzer for the Progressive. There are also several candidates for the party nomination for United States Senator and Congressmen. As all the gubernatorial candidates except Whitman will make speaking trips, the primary is likely to be as lively as a regular election campaign.

Congressman Henry of Texas, chairman of the House committee on rules, who has come out strongly against the constitutional amendments providing for national prohibition and woman suffrage, it is believed voices the sentiment of the other Democratic leaders and the majority of the party in the House and Senate, so that no legislation on these subjects is at all likely while the Democrats are in control in Congress.

It is not at all surprising that Newport has another fatal automobile accident. The wonder is that, with the reckless driving of a few automobilists, there have not been more. There is too little regard for traffic regulations, both in the city and out on the island.

The oyster season opens Tuesday. The war in Europe will cut off all foreign markets, which demand the finest bivalves, and with what is expected to be the best yield ever known the United States will have an abundance of oysters and the prospects of prices lower than ever.

England is apparently supreme on the seas, but not on the land. The repulse of the British expeditionary force working with the allies in Belgium and northern France is only in a measure compensated by the sinking of German vessels in the North sea.

The Standard Oil Company tells a Senate committee that as a result of the war it is able to buy only 25 per cent of the product of the independent operators, as it has been deprived of its markets. The war in Europe is held responsible for all sorts of things.

The New York city surface cars are henceforth to stop at the near corners of intersecting streets. The Newport trolleys have stopped at the near corners since they were first operated; that is, that has been the rule. There have been some exceptions.

Americans are fast returning from Europe. Two thousand arrived at New York Saturday and as many more Sunday, while the Franconia at Boston Sunday landed 1,700. All report unusual experiences in the warring countries.

Russia, controlling the liquor traffic in that country, has absolutely forbidden its sale to the entire Russian people throughout the war. This is at least one good result of the great struggle.

IDLE SHIPS IN NEW YORK.

A census of steamships in the port of New York shows the number to be 161, of which 125, with a total tonnage of nearly 412,000, are idle because of the conflict abroad. Of the vessels inactive 34 are German and Austrian. The others, a majority of them flying the British flag, are planning to resume service within the next few weeks, according to steamship men, as the owners have been accumulating confidence in the power of the British cruisers to afford protection.

HOLIDAY STORE CLOSING.

The movement by the Board of Trade to consider some plan for the closing of places of business upon uncertain holidays, in order that store keepers may know in advance what is to be done and plan for it, is a good one. The committee is competent to deal with the situation and its report will probably be a wise one.

Store closing with little excuse has grown to considerable proportions in Newport, and the claim of some dealers that the matter is in danger of being over-done has some force. There is a spirit abroad that those who run our stores—proprietors, clerks and drivers—have too long hours and are over-worked. Whatever may be the truth in this respect, conditions are much easier now than in years not long ago. Formerly those connected with the retail trade not only opened their shops at a very early hour, but every week-day evening was one of confinement. Now many of the stores are open on but two evenings a week, and a Saturday half-holiday is enjoyed by many. Then, again, whatever may be one's opinion of the proper observance of Sunday, the day to a great extent has become one for excursions on trolley or boat, for outings afoot, by carriage or automobile, so that for a large portion of the community every seventh day is a holiday.

It must not be forgotten that stores are conducted for the purpose of selling goods for profit, to pay expenses and support the families of those who run them. Some think that if all the shops in the same kind of business are closed there will be no loss of sales; that buyers who cannot purchase one day will buy the same articles on the next, and so there will be no difference in the end. In some branches of business this may be true, but buying is to a considerable extent a matter of impulse. In many cases, if one postpones a purchase till the next day he loses the desire for the article and finds that he can do perfectly well without it.

There are about half a dozen holidays now observed, which are fairly well divided among the months of the year. For reasons stated it may seem to the committee wise to report that, at least, their number be not increased. One who is thoroughly in earnest in the business of life is not looking for many holidays.

MUNICIPAL PATRIOTISM.

There is need of more patriotism in regard to cities as well as in respect to nations. How many persons are full of love of country, but show little or none for the city or town in which they live. They would resent emphatically any aspersion cast upon the land of their birth, but will cast slurs innumerable upon the place of their nativity. This curious phenomenon can be observed all over the country. Why is it that the same feeling of affection manifested for the nation is not shown toward the city? The latter is as much entitled to consideration as the former and needs as much the support and love of those who live within its borders. There should not be less love of country, but more love of city, and it should be shown more plainly when there is a temptation to deride it.

This does not mean that there should be no criticism of the city in which one lives or of the country where one was born, for there must be deserved criticism if there is to be progress. It should be fair and honest, however, and expressed in such a manner as to show that it is founded upon a desire for the improvement of conditions and not in a spirit of fault-finding. Too many people are inclined to decry the place in which they live. They ignore its advantages and are quick to see and to dilate upon its disadvantages. Such a spirit and its expression do much to retard the development of a city or town. There should be more of local patriotism, of devotion to the city where one has had his birth or which he has made his adopted home. There is room for improvements in every place, but the way to secure these is not continually to complain about the conditions, but to try to do something to make them better. If such an attitude should be assumed by the chronic croakers the places where they live would speedily become more attractive and wholesome places of residence.

DISAPPOINTED IN DISLOYALTY.

The Germans confidently expected that England would be afraid to enter the war, or, if she did, that the Irish would rise in rebellion. On the contrary, a foreign war was the one thing needed to make Irishmen forget all about Ulster and home rule. They also expected the Catholics of France to desert their country, on account of the quarrel between the government and Rome, and there has not been a trace of that. They were confident that the Poles and Finns would rise, though it is not at all certain that the Poles of Russia are any worse off than those of Prussia, while the Finns are too feeble to do anything unless a German army should come to their help, and it is by no means certain that they would take any chances then.

On the other hand, Russia believed that its offer of autonomy to its own Poles would raise revolts among the Prussian and Austrian Poles, but nothing of that sort has occurred. It was thought in England and France that the German socialists would antagonize the war to the extent of disconcerting the plans of the Kaiser, and the socialists are shouting "On to Paris!" as loud as anybody.

The Kaiser still thinks he could start a fire in the rear by arousing the Moslems of India, but he probably could not. He is now trying to persuade the Sultan of Turkey to plunge into the war, mainly in the hope of the influence it might have on the Turk, but the Indian Moslems have already sent the Turks a communication expressing their loyalty to England and their hope that nothing will be allowed to disturb the amicable relations between the Turks and the English.

Religious wars are not now easily aroused, and national feeling, even among persons of different races, is a good deal of a force, while of course there are great dangers in rebellion, which only the desperate will incur. So far the hopes of disaffection, disloyalty and insurrection have been disappointed on all hands, and the indications are that each nation will be able to fight the enemies before it without much apprehension of secret foes in the rear.

THE PROGRESS OF SHIPPING.

Europe is not mentioned in the bill before Congress among the enumerated destinations of the proposed government fleet of freight carriers. Is this to allay apprehensions here and in Europe, or it is merely that the administration does not intend to use the vessels which it desires to buy, in trade with Europe, but desires the way left open? This is done by the words "and elsewhere," after all the ports not likely to raise issues of neutrality and contraband have been mentioned.

There is no sufficient justification for the risks involved in this bill. Our wheat and cotton do not go to South America, and the need of exporting these products is urged as the reason for the unprecedented proposition that the government should go into the ocean-carrying trade. It is quite certain that we cannot carry wheat to England in government ships without angering Germany and probably exciting all German-American citizens. It is equally certain that we cannot carry wheat in government ships to Germany without the protest of England.

There is no such embargo on our exports as should move us to extreme steps. For a time the railroads would not take export grain, because there was no room for storage and ships were not running, but they are running now. In the week-ending August 22 more than 6,000,000 bushels went out from various ports. In half of the following week 1,750,000 bushels went out of New York, to France and Mediterranean ports as well as the United Kingdom.

Every day the shipping situation is improving, but if we sent out only 6,000,000 a week it would remove our surplus in the course of a year. If we can send out grain, we can send out cotton, and more cotton than ever before will be used by our own mills and sent to Japan, because markets which have been supplied by the mills of Continental Europe, chiefly Germany, must now obtain their cotton cloths from other countries. We can well afford to keep clear of any possible entanglements in the war and let England and France send for their wheat and cotton. England must have the wheat or starve; it is for her and not for us to worry.

Now Italy is preparing to enter the general conflict, awaiting a move by Turkey, her latest antagonist in actual warfare. It is said, however, that she is maintaining the strictest neutrality, although the Kaiser is believed to be endeavoring to commit her to agree not to object should Turkey adopt what German diplomacy terms "defensive measures to protect Turkish interests." It is also said that Italy is only awaiting the election of a new Pope to join the war. A high official, who is responsible for this latter prediction, when asked upon which side Italy will fight, replied "She surely will not support Austria. That would mean a revolution." If Italy will not support Austria she cannot aid Germany.

In New York, which is to have a preliminary election campaign this week, preceding the state-wide primaries, there are eight candidates for three party nominations. Governor Martin H. Glynn, John A. Hennessey and Adolf L. Kline are working for the Democratic nomination; District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, Job A. Hedges and Harvey D. Hinman for the Republican, and Frederick M. Davenport and former Governor William Sulzer for the Progressive. There are also several candidates for the party nomination for United States Senator and Congressmen. As all the gubernatorial candidates except Whitman will make speaking trips, the primary is likely to be as lively as a regular election campaign.

Congressman Henry of Texas, chairman of the House committee on rules, who has come out strongly against the constitutional amendments providing for national prohibition and woman suffrage, it is believed voices the sentiment of the other Democratic leaders and the majority of the party in the House and Senate, so that no legislation on these subjects is at all likely while the Democrats are in control in Congress.

It is not at all surprising that Newport has another fatal automobile accident. The wonder is that, with the reckless driving of a few automobilists, there have not been more. There is too little regard for traffic regulations, both in the city and out on the island.

The oyster season opens Tuesday. The war in Europe will cut off all foreign markets, which demand the finest bivalves, and with what is expected to be the best yield ever known the United States will have an abundance of oysters and the prospects of prices lower than ever.

England is apparently supreme on the seas, but not on the land. The repulse of the British expeditionary force working with the allies in Belgium and northern France is only in a measure compensated by the sinking of German vessels in the North sea.

The Standard Oil Company tells a Senate committee that as a result of the war it is able to buy only 25 per cent of the product of the independent operators, as it has been deprived of its markets. The war in Europe is held responsible for all sorts of things.

The New York city surface cars are henceforth to stop at the near corners of intersecting streets. The Newport trolleys have stopped at the near corners since they were first operated; that is, that has been the rule. There have been some exceptions.

Americans are fast returning from Europe. Two thousand arrived at New York Saturday and as many more Sunday, while the Franconia at Boston Sunday landed 1,700. All report unusual experiences in the warring countries.

Russia, controlling the liquor traffic in that country, has absolutely forbidden its sale to the entire Russian people throughout the war. This is at least one good result of the great struggle.

IDLE SHIPS IN NEW YORK.

A census of steamships in the port of New York shows the number to be 161, of which 125, with a total tonnage of nearly 412,000, are idle because of the conflict abroad. Of the vessels inactive 31 are German and Austrian. The others, a majority of them flying the British flag, are planning to resume service within the next few weeks, according to steamship men, as the owners have been accumulating confidence in the power of the British cruisers to afford protection.

Semi-Finals Leave the West and the East Still Pitted Against Each Other.

McLoughlin Wins From Clothier and Williams Defeats Fottrell in Straight Sets.

The semi-finals in the national lawn tennis tournament were played this morning before one of the largest, if not the largest gathering of spectators ever seen in the Casino grounds, and both matches were worth seeing. As a result of the play the West and the East are still pitted against each other, M. E. McLoughlin, one Californian, winning from W. J. Clothier, a Philadelphian, and R. N. Williams, 2d., the other Philadelphian, defeating E. F. Fottrell, also of California. Both were decided in straight sets.

The Williams-Fottrell match, started at 10:30 on the court nearest the court tennis building piazza, attracted the attention of the early comers, who were ranged four and five deep on the sides and filled every available spot on the lower and upper piazzas where seats could be placed to give a view of the match. Fottrell, like all the California players, has a terrific service and plays essentially the driving game. This service bothered Williams a good deal during the early part of the match, but later he overcame this difficulty and playing more ground strokes won eventually with comparative ease.

In the first set each payer won on his service until the score was 4-all. Then Williams broke through for the vantage game, and won the next at love on his own service The points were:

Williams	4	5	4	0	6	1	4	2	4	4—34—6
Fottrell	0	7	0	4	4	4	2	4	2	9—27—4

Four times in the second set the games alternated on service, but then Williams ran up three in succession, two at love and one at 15, on generally better play. Fottrell took the eighth at love, and Williams won the set in the next, which went to deuce twice before it was decided. The points were as follows:

Williams	4	1	6	1	4	4	4	0	6—30—6
Fottrell	0	4	4	4	1	0	0	4	4—21—3

In the third set Williams showed his superiority, handling Fottrell's service effectually and passing repeatedly on ground strokes which the latter could not handle. It was a case of taking the measure of his opponent and playing him off his feet. Fottrell won the third game at love, and with the score 3-1 against him made a stand in the seventh, winning after deuce had been called twice. Williams took the deciding game with Fottrell at 15. The points follow:

Williams	4	4	1	4	7	5	4	4	—33—6
Fottrell	1	2	4	1	5	3	6	1	—23—2

In the three sets Williams had 15 nets, 20 outs, 22 places, 12 aces and 5 double faults. Fottrell had 18 nets, 39 outs, 18 places, 12 aces and 6 double faults.

The McLoughlin-Clothier match was played on the championship court before a gathering which nearly filled all the stands. Although it was begun at 11:08 and completed at 12:08, it was an hour filled with brilliant tennis. Each player was at his best and made strokes which called forth hearty applause. It was, however, not uniformly good tennis, as each made errors, at critical times, due largely to the force of his opponent's strokes rather than from lack of skill.

Clothier was evidently determined that it was now or never to come back, and played his best tennis of this year, possibly for several years. He showed excellent headwork and forced McLoughlin to his best. The Californian manifested his mastery in the second set, when with the score 4-1 against him he ran up five games in succession, playing at terrific speed and winning point after point on placed and service acts. Clothier made many brilliant returns of McLoughlin's hard drives, but could not stand against his skilful placing. While he played his best game, McLoughlin was as brilliant as ever, and won on his general superior work.

McLoughlin did not strike his stride at the opening of the match and Clothier won three straight games, the Californian taking the fourth on his service, the score going to deuce. McLoughlin also won the next two games, and the score was 3-all. Clothier took the seventh, and then McLoughlin ran out the set, 6-4, largely on his places. The points:

McLoughlin	1	3	0	5	6	4	1	5	4	4—33—6
Clothier	4	5	4	3	4	1	4	3	2	2—32—4

Clothier opened the service in the second set and won the first game. McLoughlin scored a love game on brilliant passes. Clothier took three in succession and had the score 4-1. Then McLoughlin began his most brilliant play and had his opponent at his mercy, running off five games in rapid succession, Clothier making only four points in the five games, two places and one each on an out and a double fault by McLoughlin. The points were as follows:

McLoughlin	2	4	2	3	1	4	4	4	4	4—32—6
Clothier	4	0	4	5	4	0	1	1	0	2—21—4

McLoughlin won two games at the opening of the third set, making seven in a row. Clothier took the third, McLoughlin being unable to handle the Philadelphian's service successfully and giving away the game on an out and three nets. McLoughlin then won two games, in which places and an ace on service figured prominently. Clothier at this point recovered his skill and took two games, with McLoughlin at 30 in each. McLoughlin won the ninth after deuce had been called, scoring on a net by his opponent and a pretty pass. The points follow:

McLoughlin	4	4	1	4	5	4	2	2	5	—31—6
Clothier	1	1	4	0	3	2	4	4	3	—22—3

McLoughlin has 27 nets, 27 outs, 37 places, 5 aces and 2 double faults. Clothier had 26 nets, 27 outs, 18 places, 1 ace and 1 doubt fault. These figures show that McLoughlin won on better placing and serving.

In the 1913 tournament McLoughlin defeated Clothier in the round before the semi-finals, the match being decided in straight sets, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4.

In the finals McLoughlin will again meet R. Norris Williams, who last year was defeated in the championship round in a four-set match, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 6-1.

REAL FUN ON TAP.

Children's Dancing Contest at the Beach Won by Misses Beth and Bella Leys.

Smaller Sunday Crowd Than Usual, But Best of the Day Came When the Sun Was Setting.

The children's dancing contest at the beach pavilion Saturday afternoon for the silver loving cup, drew a big crowd, despite the disagreeable weather, and it is safe to say that had it been pleasant the hall would have been taxed to its full capacity. The contest was among the most enjoyable at the beach this season, more real fun being on tap than in any other event of this sort. So great a success was the contest that Manager McGowan is to hold another next Saturday afternoon.

It was a pleasure to see the children dancing together, young tots with perfect self-assurance gravely keeping time with the music while the crowd was filled with laughter. The winners were Misses Beth and Bella Leys, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Leys. They met much opposition from tiny Miss Anna Sullivan and partner, who were the runners up. The decision of the judges—Messrs. Harry Hickok, Joseph McInnis and Ernst Vogt, Jr.—was well received by the crowd, which applauded its approval.

There was a natural thinning of the beach crowds Sunday, as the clearing of the weather came too late in the morning to convince people at a distance that the day was to be pleasant. Yet there was a good-sized crowd, and hundreds came from distant places. Coming down the bay on the steamers is said to have been a disagreeable trip, because there was not a breath of air stirring and the atmosphere was very humid.

The bathers found it high tide and there was little or no hard sand for promenading. The water was fine and during the early part of the day there promised to be almost exclusively a patronage of bathers. The afternoon brought good crowds and the dining room and lunch bar did good business.

The Watchman Industrial School Band of Providence played a concert in the dance pavilion in the afternoon to a small gathering, and then came out and played on the board walk and by passing the hat seemed to gather in more money than by selling tickets. The best of the day came when the sun was setting. With the western sky filled with purple clouds there was a changing picture which held admirers of nature gazing off over the sea. After the sun's rays had ceased to illuminate, the moon came forth and made the evening enjoyable.

JAMESTOWN.

Tourists, in Europe When War Was Declared, Arrive at Cottages.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

The event of the season at the Casino was held Saturday night, when a dinner was given by Mr. Charles McCloud of Philadelphia to a large number in honor of Mr. George E. Stearns of Augusta, Ga., who has just returned from a trip abroad. Mr. Stearns was in Munich at the time of the declaration of war and only with much delay was able to return to England, and thence to America.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepley of St. Louis have arrived from Europe at their cottage on Snoreby Hill. They were in Paris when war was declared, but were fortunate in securing passage on the last train to leave that city with baggage. In England they were not so fortunate and Mr. Shepley was compelled to return in the steerage.

The jam of automobiles on their way to tennis was again much in evidence at the ferry this morning, from 9:30 to 12 o'clock the boats being unable to take all who desired to go.

Mr. E. F. Watson and his daughter Mildred of Providence are visiting on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes of Newburgh, N. Y., and Mrs. L. H. Champlain of New York were on the island this morning, leaving by automobile for Newburgh.

Dr. Strickney Cole and family have left on yacht Lady Betty for Philadelphia.

Dr. Pittfield and family, who have occupied the Armbrust cottage on Grinnell avenue, have left for Philadelphia.

Dr. Currie, who has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. Feilding, has left for Philadelphia.

Rear Admiral Thomas O. Selfridge, U. S. N. (retired), and Mrs. Selfridge gave a reception and tea to 200 guests at the Casino this afternoon.

REAL FUN ON TAP.

Children's Dancing Contest at the Beach Won by Misses Beth and Bella Leys.

Smaller Sunday Crowd Than Usual, But Best of the Day Came When the Sun Was Setting.

The children's dancing contest at the beach pavilion Saturday afternoon, for the silver loving cup, drew a big crowd, despite the disagreeable weather, and it is safe to say that had it been pleasant the hall would have been taxed to its full capacity. The contest was among the most enjoyable at the beach this season, more real fun being on tap than in any other event of this sort. So great a success was the contest that Manager McGowan is to hold another next Saturday afternoon.

It was a pleasure to see the children dancing together, young tots with perfect self-assurance gravely keeping time with the music while the crowd was filled with laughter. The winners were Misses Beth and Bella Leys, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Leys. They met much opposition from tiny Miss Anna Sullivan and partner, who were the runners up. The decision of the judges—Messrs. Harry Hickok, Joseph McInnis and Ernst Vogt, Jr.,—was well received by the crowd, which applauded its approval.

There was a natural thinning of the beach crowds Sunday, as the clearing of the weather came too late in the morning to convince people at a distance that the day was to be pleasant. Yet there was a good-sized crowd, and hundreds came from distant places. Coming down the bay on the steamers is said to have been a disagreeable trip, because there was not a breath of air stirring and the atmosphere was very humid.

The bathers found it high tide and there was little or no hard sand for promenading. The water was fine and during the early part of the day there promised to be almost exclusively a patronage of bathers. The afternoon brought good crowds and the dining room and lunch bar did good business.

The Watchman Industrial School Band of Providence played a concert in the dance pavilion in the afternoon to a small gathering, and then came out and played on the board walk and by passing the hat seemed to gather in more money than by selling tickets. The best of the day came when the sun was setting. With the western sky filled with purple clouds there was a changing picture which held admirers of nature gazing off over the sea. After the sun's rays had ceased to illuminate, the moon came forth and made the evening enjoyable.

JAMESTOWN.

Tourists, in Europe When War Was Declared, Arrive at Cottages.

(Regular correspondence of The News.)

The event of the season at the Casino was held Saturday night, when a dinner was given by Mr. Charles McCloud of Philadelphia, to a large number in honor of Mr. George R. Stearns of Augusta, Ga., who has just returned from a trip abroad. Mr. Stearns was in Munich at the time of the declaration of war and only with much delay was able to return to England, and thence to America.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepley of St. Louis have arrived from Europe at their cottage on Shoreby Hill. They were in Paris when war was declared, but were fortunate in securing passage on the last train to leave that city with baggage. In England they were got so fortunate and Mr. Shepley was compelled to return in the steerage.

The jam of automobiles on their way to tennis was again much in evidence at the ferry this morning, from 9:30 to 12 o'clock the boats being unable to take all who desired to go.

Mr. E. F. Watson and his daughter Mildred of Providence are visiting on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes of Newburgh, N. Y., and Mrs. L. H. Champlain of New York were on the island this morning, leaving by automobile for Newburgh.

Dr. Strickney Cole and family have left on yacht Lady Betty for Philadelphia.

Dr. Pitzfield and family, who have occupied the Anadrust cottage on Grinnell avenue, have left for Philadelphia.

Dr. Currie, who has been guest of Mr. and Mrs. Pelding, has left for Philadelphia.

Rear Admiral Thomas O. Selfridge, U. S. N. (retired), and Mrs. Selfridge gave a reception and tea to 200 guests at the Casino this afternoon.

LITTLE INTEREST IN POLITICS.

Stupendous European War Takes All the People's Time and Attention.

Fall Elections, However, Will Be Important, as Forecasting Result Two Years Hence.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, August 29.—There ought to be more interest in the Congressional elections this year than has been manifested up to the present time. Naturally, the European war occupies all the available space in the newspepers, and few people have time to discuss politics. Yet the voting this fall will be of great importance, as forecasting the election two years hence. The political campaign committees have been able to arouse no particular interest in the canvass up to the present time.

The Congressional and Senatorial campaigns have been largely personal so far as they have begun. Each member has been interested in his own contest for re-nomination and Senators have been interested in the primaries in their states. Under any other conditions except the stupendous war in Europe there would have been a great interest in the politics of the present year.

Congressman Murray of Massachusetts, who has been appointed postmaster at Boston, is still a member of the House, and takes considerable interest in legislative matters. Murray is one of the men who opposed vigorously the legislation offered by Chairman Jones of the insular committee in the last Congress which provided for the independence of the Philippines in eight years. The new legislation offered by Jones makes no mention of a date for Philippine independence. Congressman Murray says there has been a change in opinion since the Democrats came into power and have the responsibility of the Philippine Islands and realize what it means to declare their independence.

Minority Leader Mann is a partisan and oftentimes has the Democratic membership sore at him, but he makes it all up in the nice little compliments he pays to Democratic members whenever he can. Half a dozen members of the House have been appointed to federal positions by President Wilson and near the retirement of each of these appointees Mann has taken occasion to pay them fine compliments and to commend the President for the selections. These things make up for all that Mann has ever done to the Democrats in the fights he has made against them. Mr. Peters of Massachusetts, appointed Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, was the latest recipient of these complimentary words.

There has been some speculation as to how the German vote will be affected by the attitude of the United States in the big war in Europe. It is rather curious that this "German vote" has figured so prominently in nearly every political campaign in the last 50 years. It is a well known fact, as demonstrated by political investigation, that the German vote is no different from the Irish vote, the Scandinavian vote or any other vote of men who have become naturalized citizens. It is not carried in the vest pocket of any man, nor is it influenced to any great extent by European events.

James Hamilton Lewis is the real busy man of the Senate. Because he is whip of the majority and is engaged in keeping the Democratic membership in attendance so as to maintain a quorum at all times, he finds it necessary to spend most of his time right in the Senate chamber; and there is where he takes care of his correspondence. While the so-called wind-jamming is in progress in the Senate he is dictating letters to his stenographer, and when the point of no quorum is made he sends the Senate employes scurrying about after absent Senators.

As long as there is a river and harbor bill there will always be more or less talk when it is considered. It is a good time on which to preach economy, and several members of the House take advantage of the opportunity. The fight against the river and harbor bill was carried on by Congressman Frear of Wisconsin and Congressman Callaway of Texas. These members opposed nearly all the items, one after another, as they were read, and some times made progress very slow. The talk did not develop anything of interest this year, and the bill goes through, just the same.

A story was in circulation that Gifford Pinchot, true to an old sweetheart, wrote her a letter every night and received a spirit communication in reply. That story was not started until Pinchot became a candidate for United States Senator. His recent marriage will stifle that sort of a yarn, if it was the intention to use it in the coming campaign.

TO KEEP IT FROM JAPANESE.

American Residents Prepairing to Hoist Flag Over Kiao Chau.

LONDON, August 31.—A St. Petersburg despatch to the Telegraph says: "According to reports brought here by German prisoners, it has been announced in Berlin that American residents are preparing to hoist the American flag at Kiao Chau, in order to keep the city out of the hands of the Japanese. The St. Petersburg newspapers publish the report and ask whether it is possible that Germany has some arrangement with the United States whereby the trick played with the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau may be repeated with the stronghold on land."

—Major Joseph Wheeler, Jr., coast artillery corps, post commander at Fort Adams, has been ordered to Galveston, Texas.

—Mr. Alfred W. Chase will return this week from Pine Ridge Camp, Belgrade Lakes, Maine, where he has spent the summer.

—Bellevue avenue, between Bath road and Touro street, is showing numerous holes in the surface, which was new last year.

—Dowager Lady Decies, who has been spending the summer at Bateman's, will sail for England on the Olympic Wednesday.

—The devotion of the Forty Hours will begin at St. Mary's Church next Friday, the first Friday in the month, and close Sunday morning.

—Torpedo boat destroyer Fanning, Lieutenant Commander William N. Jeffers, has arrived from Norfolk, joining other vessels of the flotilla.

—Though Mr. Robert J. Collier was still unconscious Sunday night, an improvement was noted in his condition and hope is still held for his recovery.

—Mrs. Augustus L. Whitlock of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and her son are guests of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ward, Jr., on Powel avenue.

—Miss Caroline C. Hazard and Miss Annie Turner are to leave for a stay in Maryland, after which Miss Hazard will go to Kingston, N. Y., for the winter.

—Mr. William R. Hunter, who has been confined to his residence, "Belair," by illness, is now able to be about the house and on the road to recovery.

—Lieutenant Commander Thomas C. Hart, U. S. N., who has been detached from duty as executive officer at the Torpedo Station, has been granted leave of absence.

—The Fort Adams football squad for the coming season has already begun to show signs of life, practice having been started. It is not as vigorous as it will be when the weather is colder.

—Captain George R. Clark has been detached from the command of the Naval Training Station, Great Lake, North Chicago, and ordered to the Navy Department, as aide for education in charge of the enlisted men's schools.

—Miss Lola Phinney is guest of the Misses Stevens on Rhode Island avenue. Her sisters, Misses Mary and Anita Phinney, who are at Murray Bay, Canada, will arrive for the late season at "Hilltop," which has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Reynal during the summer.

—Messrs. Charles R. Schoeneman and George J. Schoeneman, who have been spending their vacation with their father, Mr. Charles Schoeneman, left Sunday night for Washington, where one is employed in the Treasury and one in the Postoffice department.

—In spite of the fact that it is generally known that strangers are not allowed to visit the Torpedo Station, occasionally persons make the attempt to visit that place. Visitors to the families of the officers are met at the ferry landing by sailors and escorted to their destination.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gilman, Miss Lottie Smith, Miss Jessie Brookes and Mr. Charles E. Gilman of New Bedford are visiting Mr. Alfred E. Gilman on Madison court. Mrs. H. W. Stratton, with her three children, has returned from Norfolk, Va., and is also with her brother, Mr. Gilman.

—It was announced Sunday that St. Mary's parochial school and St. Mary's academy will open for the school year, September 8, the day after Labor day. This is a week earlier than the public schools. It seems likely that the St. Joseph's and St. Augustin's parochial schools will open the same day as the public schools.

—A prominent citizen, who believes every one should do right, was seen Saturday riding a bicycle with a lantern on it, but no light was noticed. The law speaks of a light and not a lamp. What riders and drivers are required to have is a light. Carrying a lamp which is not burning does not go with a bicycle any more than with an automobile.

—One of Keegan & Smith's delivery automobiles was recently sworn to its top. The driver failed to heed a red flag at the Training Station, where electric wires were being repaired and a heavy one hung down over the roadway. The wire was so strong that it was said a request for the top to be put behind, even if this did mean the breaking off of six heavy standards.

—Ensign H. P. Curley has been detached from the Virginia, Ensign F. M. Coller from the South Carolina, Ensign L. K. Forde from the Red, Ensign C. H. McMorris from the New Hampshire, Ensign M. W. Hibbs from the Louisiana, Ensigns C. B. Edgar and A. C. Bennett from the Florida, Ensigns F. L. Shea and R. W. Lewis from the Arkansas, and Ensigns R. W. Holt and J. Y. Dresenstok from the Wyoming, and all are ordered to the Montana for torpedo instruction.

DESERT THE NEWPORTS.

the ball for 13 hits and 20 bases. Bart Sheehan led with two triples, a double and a single, in five times up, while Raymond Carr had an equally good average, with three clean singles and a double in as many appearances to the rubber. Two umpires were provided; Mr. Skilton, working behind the plate, made a favorable impression by his decisions and also by the way in which he hurried the game along.

Ney mowed down the sailors in regular order for eight innings and was at his best in the eighth, when he struck out three in a row with the bases full. The Newports made all their runs in two big innings, and had such a lead that they slipped up on chances to score. The Dixie used three pitchers to check the Newports.

Ney opened the third inning with a single and Sheehan sent him in with the first run, when he tripled to centre. Bull scored Sheehan on a scratch hit along the first base line. Gibson singled, sending Bull to third, and then stole second. Gillis hit to Oncher, who tried to catch Gibson at third, but Bull scored and all the runners were safe. Carr's pretty hit tallied two more counters and Reynolds's tap scored him later. A fast double play prevented any more runs. In the fifth the Newports added six more runs by equally good work with the willow.

LITTLE INTEREST IN POLITICS.

Stupendous European War Takes All the People's Time and Attention.

Fall Elections, However, Will Be Important; as Forecasting Result Two Years Hence.

[Washington correspondence of the News.]

WASHINGTON, August 29.—There ought—to be more interest in the Congressional elections this year than has been manifested up to the present time. Naturally, the European war occupies all the available space in the newspapers, and few people have time to discuss politics. Yet the voting this fall will be of great importance, as forecasting the election two years hence. The political campaign committees have been able to arouse no particular interest in the canvass up to the present time.

The Congressional and Senatorial campaigns have been largely personal, so far as they have begun. Each member has been interested in his own contest for re-nomination and Senators have been interested in the primaries in their states. Under any other conditions except the stupendous war in Europe there would have been a great interest in the politics of the present year.

Congressman Murray of Massachusetts, who has been appointed postmaster at Boston, is still a member of the House, and takes considerable interest in legislative matters. Murray is one of the men who opposed vigorously the legislation offered by Chairman Jones of the insular committee in the last Congress which provided for the independence of the Philippines in eight years. The new legislation offered by Jones makes no mention of a date for Philippine independence. Congressman Murray says there has been a change in opinion since the Democrats came into power and have the responsibility of the Philippine islands and realize what it means to declare their independence.

Minority Leader Mann is a partisan and oftentimes has the Democratic membership sore at him, but he makes it all up in the nice little compliments he pays to Democratic members whenever he can. Half a dozen members of the House have been appointed to federal positions by President Wilson and near the retirement of each of these appointees Mann has taken occasion to pay them fine compliments and to commend the President for the selections. These things make up for all that Mann has ever done to the Democrats in the fights he has made against them. Mr. Peters of Massachusetts, appointed Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, was the latest recipient of these complimentary words.

There has been some speculation as to how the German vote will be affected by the attitude of the United States in the big war in Europe. It is rather curious that this "German vote" has figured so prominently in nearly every political campaign in the last 50 years. It is a well known fact, as demonstrated by political investigation, that the German vote is no different from the Irish vote, the Scandinavian vote or any other vote of men who have become naturalized citizens. It is not carried in the vest pocket of any man, nor is it influenced to any great extent by European events.

James Hamilton Lewis is the real busy man of the Senate. Because he is whip of the majority and is engaged in keeping the Democratic membership in attendance so as to maintain a quorum at all times, he finds it necessary to spend most of his time right in the Senate chamber; and there is where he takes care of his correspondence. While the so-called wind-jamming is in progress in the Senate he is dictating letters to his stenographer, and when the point of no quorum is made he sends the Senate employes scurrying about after absent Senators.

As long as there is a river and harbor bill there will always be more or less talk when it is considered. It is a good time in which to preach economy, and several members of the House take advantage of the opportunity. The fight against the river and harbor bill was carried on by Congressman Frear of Wisconsin and Congressman Callaway of Texas. These members opposed nearly all the items, one after another, as they were read, and some times made progress very slow. The talk did not develop anything of interest this year, and the bill goes through, just the same.

A story was in circulation that Gifford Pinchot, true to an old sweetheart, wrote her a letter every night and received a spirit communication in reply. That story was not started until Pinchot became a candidate for United States Senator. His recent marriage will stifle that sort of a yarn, if it was the intention to use it in the coming campaign.

Arthur W. Dunn.

TO KEEP IT FROM JAPANESE.

American Residents Prepairing to Hoist Flag Over Kiao Chau.

LONDON, August 31.—A St. Petersburg despatch to the Telegraph says: "According to reports brought here by German prisoners, it has been announced in Berlin that American residents are preparing to hoist the American flag at Kiao Chau, in order to keep the city out of the hands of the Japanese. The St. Petersburg newspapers publish the report and ask whether it is possible that Germany has some arrangement with the United States whereby the trick played with the German cruisers Goeben and Breslau may be repeated with the stronghold on land."

—Mr. Alfred W. Chase will return this week from Pine Ridge Camp, Belgrade Lakes, Maine, where he has spent the summer.

—Torpedo boat destroyer Fanning, Lieutenant Commander William N. Jeffers, has arrived from Norfolk, joining other vessels of the flotilla.

—Though Mr. Robert J. Collier was still unconscious Sunday night, an improvement was noted in his condition and hope is still held for his recovery.

—Mrs. Augustus L. Whitlock of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and her son are guests of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ward, Jr., on Powel avenue.

—Miss Caroline C. Hazard and Miss Annie Turner are to leave for a stay in Maryland, after which Miss Hazard will go to Kingston, N. Y., for the winter.

—Mr. William R. Hunter, who has been confined to his residence, "Belair," by illness, is now able to be about the house and on the road to recovery.

—Lieutenant Commander Thomas C. Hart, U. S. N., who has been detached from duty as executive officer at the Torpedo Station, has been granted leave of absence.

—The Fort Adams football squad for the coming season has already begun to show signs of life, practice having been started. It is not as vigorous as it will be when the weather is colder.

—Captain George R. Clark has been detached from the command of the Naval Training Station, Great Lake, North Chicago, and ordered to the Navy Department, as aide for education in charge of the enlisted men's schools.

—Miss Lola Phinney is guest of the Misses Stevens on Rhode Island avenue. Her sisters, Misses Mary and Anita Phinney, who are at Murray Bay, Canada, will arrive for the late season at "Hilltop," which has been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Reynal during the summer.

—Messrs. Charles R. Schoeneman and George J. Schoeneman, who have been spending their vacation with their father, Mr. Charles Schoeneman, left Sunday night for Washington, where one is employed in the Treasury and one in the Postoffice department.

—In spite of the fact that it is generally known that strangers are not allowed to visit the Torpedo Station, occasionally persons make the attempt to visit that place. Visitors to the families of the officers are met at the ferry landing by sailors and escorted to their destination.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gilman, Miss Lottie Smith, Miss Jessie Brookes and Mr. Charles E. Gilman of New Bedford are visiting Mr. Alfred E. Gilman on Madison court. Mrs. H. W. Stratton, with her three children, has returned from Norfolk, Va., and is also with her brother, Mr. Gilman.

—It was announced Sunday that St. Mary's parochial school and St. Mary's academy will open for the school year September 8, the day after Labor day. This is a week earlier than the public schools. It seems likely that the St. Joseph's and St. Augustin's parochial schools will open the same day as the public schools.

—A prominent citizen, who believes every one should do right, was seen Saturday riding a bicycle with a lantern on it, but no light was noticed. The law speaks of a light and not a lamp. What riders and drivers are required to have is a light. Carrying a lamp which is not burning does not go with a bicycle any more than with an automobile.

—One of Kenyon & Smith's delivery automobiles was recently shorn of its top. The driver failed to heed a red flag at the Training Station, where electric wires were being repaired and a heavy one hung down over the roadway. The wire was so strong that it was simply a necessity for the top to be left behind, even if this did mean the breaking off of six heavy stanchions.

—Ensign H. P. Curley has been detached from the Virginia. Ensign F. M. Collier from the South Carolina, Ensign L. K. Forde from the Reid, Ensign C. H. McMorris from the New Hampshire, Ensign M. W. Hibbs from the Louisiana, Ensigns C. B. Edgar and A. C. Bennett from the Florida, Ensigns F. L. Sheen and R. W. Lewis from the Arkansas, and Ensigns R. W. Holt and J. Y. Dreisonstok from the Wyoming, and all are ordered to the Montana for torpedo instruction.

DESERT THE NEWPORTS.

the ball for 13 hits and 29 bases. Bart Sheehan led with two triples, a double and a single, in five times up, while Raymond Carr had an equally good average, with three clean singles and a double in as many appearances to the rubber. Two umpires were provided; Mr. Skilton, working behind the plate, made a favorable impression by his decisions and also by the way in which he hurried the game along.

Ney mowed down the sailors in regular order for eight innings and was at his best in the eighth, when he struck out three in a row with the bases full. The Newports made all their runs in two big innings, and had such a lead that they slipped up on chances to score. The Dixie used three pitchers to check the Newports.

Ney opened the third inning with a single and Sheehan sent him in with the first run, when he tripled to centre. Ball scored Sheehan on a scratch hit along the first base line. Gibson singled, sending Ball to third, and then stole second. Gillis hit to Ocher, who tried to catch Gibson at third, but Ball scored and all the runners were safe. Carr's pretty hit tallied two more counters and Reynolds's tap scored him later. A fast double play prevented any more runs. In the fifth the Newports added six more runs by equally good work with the willow.

PLAYGROUND WORK.

Various Phases to be Illustrated in Children's Exhibition.

The people of Newport will have a fine opportunity to see just what is being accomplished in the playgrounds, Tuesday afternoon at Morton park, when the last great exhibition of the year is to be held. It is the aim of Supervisor Kelley and his numerous assistants to make this the biggest event of its kind ever held here, and hundreds of children will participate in the various phases of playground work. Five special cars will take the up-town children to the park, where they will be joined by the large number from the down-town fields.

There are 15 events on the program, which promises an unusually good way in which to spend an afternoon. The girls and boys will take turns at exhibiting, and months of careful preparation has worked wonders with the children, so that a clever exhibition will result. The girls in large numbers will be featured in folk dancing, while the boys will be there with a wand drill. These events are by no means the only ones of importance on the program, and a journey to Morton park will mean an afternoon of pleasure and instruction.

PLAYGROUND WORK.

Various Phases to be Illustrated in Children's Exhibition.

The people of Newport will have a fine opportunity to see just what is being accomplished in the playgrounds, Tuesday afternoon at Morton park, when the last great exhibition of the year is to be held. It is the aim of Supervisor Kelley and his numerous assistants to make this the biggest event of its kind ever held here, and hundreds of children will participate in the various phases of playground work. Five special cars will take the up-town children to the park, where they will be joined by the large number from the down-town fields.

There are 15 events on the program, which promises an unusually good way in which to spend an afternoon. The girls and boys will take turns at exhibiting, and months of careful preparation has worked wonders with the children, so that a clever exhibition will result. The girls in large numbers will be featured in folk dancing, while the boys will be there with a wand drill. These events are by no means the only ones of importance on the program, and a journey to Morton park will mean an afternoon of pleasure and instruction.

Lightning Strikes Hay Stack, Also Flagstaff at St. George's School.

The rainstorm of Saturday finally cleared away. It looked in the afternoon, for a while, as if it was never going to do so, but of course every other storm had cleared and this one let up about 4.30, though the streets continued wet and disagreeable through the evening.

About 1 Sunday morning thunder could be heard at a distance, and about 3 it could be heard close at hand. It shook everything and woke people to close windows; probably this was well, for a heavy shower followed—the breaking-up shower. The thunder was so close that many believed it had struck, and so it did. Mr. Joseph S. Anthony had three stacks of hay in a field to the north of St. George's School and near the distributing reservoir. The larger of the three was struck and some $ or 10 tons of hay burned. Officer Wilcox, attempting to telephone about that time, had a narrow escape from a shock. The flagstaff at St. George's School was struck and the telephones in that general locality, as well as in certain parts of the city, went out of commission.

Sunday was a fine day. The wind was northeast early and the sky overcast, but the wind shifted to the southwest and the sun came out strong and hot about 9:30. The thermometer reached 72 at 1 p. m. There were some clouds in the afternoon, but generally it was clear.

The rainfall from 6 Saturday morning to the finish was only .34 of an inch, making a total for the storm of .84. The total for the month is 3.42 inches, which is pretty good. That there has been a good supply of rain is shown by the Water Works ponds, which stand up well. So far it has not been necessary to call on the Paradise ponds for water, the Green End ponds have supplied all needed

MIDDLETOWN.

Two Visiting Clergymen Preach at the Methodist Episcopal Church.

[Regular correspondence of the News]

Rev. E. E. Wells preached at the Portsmouth Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning, and at the services at the Middletown church the sermons were delivered by Rev. Albert Loucks of Portsmouth in the afternoon and by Rev. F. A. Wells of New Rochelle, N. Y., a brother of the pastor, in the evening. During the afternoon services Mr. William J. Peckham rendered the solo, "Hosanna in the Highest" and in the evening Mrs. Ida M. Brown sang Tours "Now the day is over." There was a large congregation at each service. The floral decorations were designed and furnished by Mr Fred P Webber and consisted of a choice collection of yellow dahlias

Rev. Latta Griswold assisted Rev. James P. Conover of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., at the morning service Sunday at the Berkeley Memorial Chapel. Rev. Robert Bachman of Grace Church, New York, will preach there early in September.

Mrs. Herbert Smith and her daughter, of Attleboro, formerly of Middletown, are guests of relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs Fred P Webber are entertaining Mr. Webber's aunt, Miss Mary E. Flowers, and his cousin, Miss Gertrude Crandall, both of Salem, Mass. They were among those burned out during the recent fire.

Miss Sadie L. Peckham has returned from a visit to relatives in Newport.

PEANUTS AGAIN.

Old-Fashioned Social at the Army and Navy—Other Notes.

There was an old-fashioned peanut social at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association Saturday evening. Mr. E. W. Toll was at the piano and about 75 men joined in the singing of popular songs and later all partook of the peanut eating, all seeming to have a good time.

Sunday afternoon there was a jolly meeting, a large number singing hymns. A good-sized party went from the Association building to the Friends' Church, where a luncheon was served by the women and Rev. J. S. Kimber gave an address.

Messrs. F. A. Shorwell and W. C. Ross of the Association force have gone on their vacations, the former to his home in Portland, Maine, and the latter to North Assonet, N. Y.

The Association is in receipt of magazines for circulation at the Training Station from the Y. M. C. A. building.

WATER NYMPHS FEATURED.

Unique Story in Moving Pictures at Freebody Park.

The unique story of "Neptune's Daughter," shown in a series of motion pictures featuring Annette Kellermann and other water nymphs, which is to be the attraction at Freebody Park this week, promises to create quite a sensation. Miss Kellermann, first a mermaid and later a mortal, appears in her natural charm as do other maidens. The story woven around Annette is dramatic and diverting. The film is by the Universal Company and is to be shown every afternoon and evening this week.

ALL IN A SINGLE DAY.

Test of Women Ball Players, Sham Battle, Shore Dinner and Military Ball.

Steady Round of Enjoyable Features for Labor Day Carnival at Naval Training Station.

Those who are present at the Naval Training Station Labor day will probably see a greater variety of features, events and amusements crowded into a single day than at any carnival they ever attended. Festivities will commence at 10 a. m., when the Training Station ball team will line up against a strong semi-professional nine. From that time until the following morning, when the "Home Waltz" will wind up the military ball, the day will be a steady round of enjoyable features.

At the conclusion of the fifth inning of the ball game, a contest will be held to determine the world's greatest lady ball player, and warm competition is expected in this novel test. Among the entrants is Miss Elizabeth Murphy of Warren. It is expected that some of the fair New York and Boston ball players will also endeavor to win the prize.

The inner man is being well provided for by a large and competent corps of experienced cooks and stewards. A menu which it is believed will satisfy the most exacting epicure or gourmet has been prepared. It contains a host of good things to eat, made and served by those who know how.

The feature of the afternoon will be the sham battle, a vivid representation of warfare, with more than 1,000 participating. Under the leadership of actual war veterans, men who were at Vera Cruz and in the Spanish American war, an attacking party will endeavor to dislodge a defensive party, situated at the summit of what is known as "Strawberry Hill," at the northern end of the island. The defenders will be entrenched behind earthern trenches, and during the attack a landing by launches and boats will be attempted by the storming party. Several other features of warfare will be introduced. Lieutenant J. R. Morrison, who has the management of the entire carnival, is personally arranging the details of this mimic battle.

About 3 o'clock in the afternoon a trained corps of men will give an exhibition of Swedish physical training, as it is actually taught to every man in the navy. The men giving the exhibition have been selected for their excellent work. Following the Swedish drill comes the dress parade and regimental drill, with a double navy band. These drills will show the formations and tactics in which every recruit is instructed.

At 5 o'clock a full course shore dinner will be served and it is believed that this will surpass the luncheon in general excellence. Special care is being taken in its preparation, and after dinner those who wish may make a tour of the island and visit the various barracks, drill halls, buildings and points of interest.

For those who do not care to make the sight-seeing tour, six boxing bouts have been arranged. The feature will be an eight-round go three minutes to the round, between "Frankie" Madden of New York and "Battling" Burke of Fall River. Both these boys have had actual professional experience in the roped arena, and have strong followings. They are generally conceded to be the best featherweight boxers in the navy. The other bouts will be of four two-minute rounds each, and will be between boxers of known cleverness and ability. Chief Master-at-Arms "Jack" Moore, former welter-weight champion of the navy will referee the bouts, and see that they are of the type known to fight fans as "lightning bouts."

Then comes the military ball and cabaret show, which is expected to begin at 8 o'clock. In this event it is expected the public will take a prominent part. The huge hall in Barracks "B" will comfortably accommodate 2,000 dancing couples. Thousands of electric lights have been placed on the walls and amid the trees and decorations specially prepared for the carnival. Flags, buntings, brilliant lights and clever decorations all will tend to beautify the hall. Effectively to provide for the "moonlight" waltzes and special dances, moving picture and calcium machines have been stationed on the balcony.

One of the features of the ball will be a cabaret, in which many clever specialties will be introduced. A chorus will assist the lads in singing a program of about 20 popular songs, in the intermissions between dances. The ball arrangements will be in charge of Boatswain B. Schumacher.

The carnival committee, of which Lieutenant Morrison is the chairman, has been working day and night perfecting details. Excursions and arrangements to handle the huge crowds have all been provided.

BOTH TEAMS CONFIDENT.

Drawings for Match Between Aquidneck Park and Y. M. C. A. Tennis Teams.

With both teams confident of victory, the match between Aquidneck Park and the Young Men's Christian Association, to be played on the Association court Wednesday afternoon, the 2d, results in some of the best tennis seen among local players this season. Each team is composed of fast court wielders and steady practice for this match has put them in the best of condition. The drawings are as follows:

Singles.

Wylie, Aquidneck, vs. Lee, Y. M. C. A.

Cremin, Aquidneck, vs. Stokes, Y. M. C. A.

Sullivan, Aquidneck, vs. Jacobs, Y. M. C. A.

Kenney, Aquidneck, vs. Lawson, Y. M. C. A.

Doubles.

Kenney and Cremin, Aquidneck, vs. Lee and Jacobs, Y. M. C. A.

Wylie and Sullivan, Aquidneck, vs. Stokes and Robinson, Y. M. C. A.

The Association players look to be the favorites, but Aquidneck is confident and a big crowd will be present to root for either side.

TO FIGHT AGAINST DEMOCRATS.

Suffragists Plan Action and Raise Sum to Start the Campaign Fund.

Prominent Women Speak at Garden Party, the Concluding Gathering of Two Days' Conference.

The key-note of the private meeting of the advisory council of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, Sunday afternoon at "Marble House," was to fight the political party now in power, as responsible for the neglect to introduce the suffrage resolutions now before Congress. The Democratic party is to stand firm against a constitutional provision for woman suffrage, and the struggle between these political forces is likely to be spirited.

Following the reception at the Channing parlors Saturday afternoon there was another at the Casino parlors in the evening, at which Bishop and Mrs. Darlington, assisted by several others, received the guests. Informal addresses occupied most of the time, among those speaking being Bishop Darlington, Mrs. Alice Duer Miller and Miss Lucy Burns. At the Channing reception it was voted unanimously to support the Susan B. Anthony amendment regarding suffrage

At the business session at "Marble House" Sunday afternoon the ballroom was filled with local and visiting suffragists, and after the political plan to fight against the Democrats was passed the sum of $6,912 was raised as a start for the campaign fund. The principal speakers were Miss Lucy Burns, who discussed the attitude of the Democrats towards the suffrage amendment; Mrs. Mary Beard, who spoke regarding the party organization in Congress, and Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, whose topic was organizing in the constituencies. Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional Union, then brought up the most vital topic of the session, in shaping the action to be taken against the Democrats. Following the meeting tea was served by Mrs. Belmont.

The concluding gathering of the two days' conference, Sunday evening, took the form of a garden party on the grounds of "Hilltop Cottage," Bellevue avenue, and was largely attended. The speakers sat on an improvised platform, with Congressional Union flags and a banner in the rear, in yellow with white letters, as follows: "We demand the passage of the Bristow-Mondell Amendment." "Votes for Women" banners were also seen and The Suffragist and pins and buttons were on sale. The grounds were decorated with Japanese lanterns and Conrad's orchestra played during the evening. A number of young women with purple, white and yellow sashes officiated in various capacities about the grounds and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Mrs. Donald Hooker, president of the Just Government Legion of Maryland, presided and introduced as the first speaker Mrs. Katherine Houghton Hepburn of Hartford, president of the Connecticut Woman Suffrage Association, first paying a tribute to Miss Alice Paul, president of the Union; Miss Lucy Burns and Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont.

Mrs. Hepburn spoke of the suppression of the white slave traffic in Hartford, largely through the efforts of the women in conducting a publicity and an educational campaign. Although the work of the women in Hartford did not count directly in votes, the results of the campaign were far reaching; first, the arousing of interest among the councilmen; second, the public education of women; third, the closing of houses of ill fame for two years; fourth, the training of a band of women who have carried on the work.

Mrs. Hooker made the collection speech and as a result largely of her ingenious methods $682.21 was raised to carry on campaign suffrage work in the West. It was voted at the Conference at "Marble House" to raise $15,000, about $6,000 of which was pledged Sunday afternoon.

The other speaker was Miss Annie Kenney of the Women's Social and Political Union of Great Britain and Ireland, who has been associated with Miss Christabel Pankhurst. She spoke in an earnest manner and held the close attention of the audience. Miss Kenney was thrown into prison for asking questions at a public meeting, and has been in prison several times and on hunger and thirst strikes. In 1867 and 1884 the men in England worked hard for their suffrage and the question of woman suffrage in England has been agitated since 1832. No methods except militant avail in England; these, however, have been suspended during the European war. The horror of civilized nations now at war shows an elementary civilization which would not be possible if women had been enfranchised years ago. Women in every sense of the word are the greatest sufferers in time of war.

Miss Kenney urged American men to put the American women on the same plane with themselves politically and thus show a shining example to the world at this time. Miss Kenney spoke of the suffering attendant upon thirst strikes, of the Cat and Mouse act in England, and of the exaltation one feels in working for what one believes to be a righteous cause.

WILLIAM J. SULLIVAN KILLED.

First Bank, Thos Dillon, Supposed to be the Victim in Mix-Up of Names.

Fatal Ending to Ride When Wildly-Driven Automobile Was Struck by Fall River Trolley.

There was a fatal ending to an automobile ride just beyond the One Mile Corner early Sunday evening, William J. Sullivan, better known as "Skinny John," being killed. A coincidence is that a pleasure party visiting the beach say that they saw the car there before dark, and remembered that it was a good one to keep clear of and then later were run into by it at the other end of the city.

It was a small grey car, the property of Roy Davis, a peoman at the Training Station which he had loaned to Daniel J. Dillon, Machinist's Mate (second class), for the afternoon. It had not been returned to the Central Garage at the time promised and the first that Davis knew of the accident was when a message was brought to his boarding place that he (Davis) had been killed.

Dillon was supposed to be the one killed when Davis arrived on the scene, after the medical examiner had turned the body over to the naval hospital ambulance, though Constable Bloomfield of Middletown and the Bay State railway claim agent had made their record, on the supposition that it was Davis who was killed. Just how the officials secured the wrong name is not quite clear; some say the men in the car gave it. They refused to give their own names. Even one who was taken to the Newport Hospital gave no name at the time.

The accident occurred opposite the home of Charles H. West, about 7:30. Mr. Joseph Darling, with his wife, was going out in one machine; his brother-in-law, Dr. Theodore C. Hascall, and wife, of Riverside, following in another. Mr. Darling says he noticed the fated machine, with small oil lights, coming toward them in a zig-zag manner. While his chauffeur was holding hard to the right Mr. Darling called to those behind to look out.

The two outgoing machines were on the Providence track, crowding the Bay State rails dangerously near, because a Fall River car was coming in. As the wildly driven machine which was estimated as travelling 45 miles an hour, came to the second machine it struck it a glancing blow. The fender or running board of the machine hit tore the spokes out of the wheel of the wild car, and this sent it sha.ply over on the Bay State track. Before the motorman of the big trolley could stop his car the machine had been struck and dragged about 50 feet. The shock threw out Mrs. Hascall and her baby, but they escaped with slight injuries apparently.

When the trolley car was stopped Sullivan was under the guard and another man was wedged in the machine. Dr. Hascall did not observe his own party, but went to the assistance of the injured men. The car barn was called, but before the wrecking crew could start Barn Foreman Durfee, who was at Bull street, received a message on the dispatching telephone, and jumping into an automobile was on the scene and had the emergency jack, carried on the trolley car, working, releasing the dead man. A portion of the running board needed to be cut away first.

Three doctors were soon at the scene, one takjng the injured man to the hospital. The city ambulance arrived, but after it came one of the occupants of the machine, who was acting in a rather dazed manner, telephoned to the naval hospital and its automobile ambulance came and took the body away, it then being understood that it was that of Davis.

Constable Bloomfield heard two distinct crashes, one as the two automobiles struck and the next when the car struck the machine. He was soon on the scene and it was not long before a large crowd had collected.

The trolley car which hit the machine was at Valley road at 7:25 and a little behind it was the grey machine. This was running in an erratic manner, though not very fast, observers state.

At the naval hospital it was discovered that the body was not that of a navy man, and it was then learned that it was Sullivan, a former cab driver but more recently a bar tender. There were five, all told, in the machine.

Sullivan received a fractured skull and undoubtedly met his death instantly. He leaves a wife and four children. Cornelius Harrington of Hall avenue was the man taken to the hospital. Also reported to have been in the car were Chief Yeoman L. P. Smith and Isidor Girr. Harrington was not seriously injured.

The police had queries from Fall River, New Bedford and other cities, asking if one of the automobiles came from there. Rumors of the accident spread fast and friends of parties from various places feared the victims might be people they knew.

A BREAKING-UP SHOWER.

Lightning Strikes Hay Stack, Also Flagstaff at St. George's School.

The rainstorm of Saturday finally cleared away. It looked in the afternoon, for a while, as if it was never going to do so, but of course every other storm had cleared and this one let up about 4:30, though the streets continued wet and disagreeable through the evening.

About 1 Sunday morning thunder could be heard at a distance, and about 3 it could be heard close at hand, it shook everything and woke people to close windows; probably this was well, for a heavy shower followed—the breaking-up shower. The thunder was so close that many believed it had struck, and so it did. Mr. Joseph S. Anthony had three stacks of hay in a field to the north of St. George's School and near the distributing reservoir. The larger of the three was struck and some 8 or 10 tons of hay burned. Officer Wilcox, attempting to telephone about that time, had a narrow escape from a shock. The flagstaff at St. George's School was struck and the telephones in that general locality, as well as in certain parts of the city, went out of commission.

Sunday was a fine day. The wind was northeast early and the sky overcast, but the wind shifted to the southwest and the sun came out strong and hot about 9:30. The thermometer reached 72 at 1 p. m. There were some clouds in the afternoon, but generally it was clear.

The rainfall from 6 Saturday morning to the finish was only .34 of an inch, making a total for the storm of .84. The total for the month is 3.42 inches, which is pretty good. That there has been a good supply of rain is shown by the Water Works ponds, which stand up well. So far it has not been necessary to call on the Paradise ponds for water, the Green End ponds have supplied all needed

MIDDLETOWN.

Two Visiting Clergymen Preach at the Methodist Episcopal Church.

(Regular correspondence of the News)

Rev. E. E. Wells preached at the Portsmouth Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday morning, and at the services at the Middletown church the sermons were delivered by Rev. Albert Loucks of Portsmouth in the afternoon and by Rev. F. A. Wells of New Rochelle, N. Y., a brother of the pastor, in the evening. During the afternoon services Mr. William J. Peckham rendered the solo, "Hosanna in the Highest" and in the evening Mrs. Ida M. Brown sang Tours "Now the day is over." There was a large congregation at each service. The floral decorations were designed and furnished by Mr Fred P Webber and consisted of a choice collection of yellow dahlias

Rev. Latta Griswold assisted Rev. James P. Conover of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., at the morning service Sunday at the Berkeley Memorial Chapel. Rev. Robert Beckman of Grace Church, New York, will preach there early in September.

PEANUTS AGAIN.

Old-Fashioned Social at the Army and Navy—Other Notes.

There was an old-fashioned peanut social at the Army and Navy Young Men's Christian Association Saturday evening. Mr. E. W. Toll was at the piano and about 75 men joined in the singing of popular songs and later participated in the peanut eating, all seeming to have a good time.

Sunday afternoon there was a lobby meeting, a large number singing hymns. A good-sized party went from the Association building to the Friends' Church, where a luncheon was served by the women and Rev. J. S. Kimber gave an address.

Messrs. F. A. Sharwell and W. C. Ross of the Association force have gone on their vacations, the former to his home in Portland, Maine, and the latter to North Assokan, N. Y.

The Association is in need of magazines for distribution at the Training Station, naval hospital and Association building.

WATER NYMPHS FEATURED.

Unique Story in Moving Pictures at Freebody Park.

The unique story of "Neptune's Daughter," shown in a series of motion pictures featuring Annette Kellermann and other water nymphs, which is to be the attraction at Freebody Park this week, promises to create quite a sensation. Miss Kellermann, first a mermaid, and later a mortal, appears in her natural charm, as do other maidens. The story woven around Anette is dramatic and diverting. The film is by the Universal Company and is to be shown every afternoon and evening this week.

ALL IN A SINGLE DAY.

Test of Women Ball Players, Sham Battle, Shore Dinner and Military Ball.

Steady Round of Enjoyable Features for Labor Day Carnival at Naval Training Station.

Those who are present at the Naval Training Station Labor day will probably see a greater variety of features, events and amusements crowded into a single day than at any carnival they ever attended. Festivities will commence at 10 a. m., when the Training Station ball team will line up against a strong semi-professional nine. From that time until the following morning, when the "Home Waltz" will wind up the military ball, the day will be a steady round of enjoyable features.

At the conclusion of the fifth inning of the ball game, a contest will be held to determine the world's greatest lady ball player, and warm competition is expected in this novel test. Among the entrants is Miss Elizabeth Murphy of Warren. It is expected that some of the fair New York and Boston ball players will also endeavor to win the prize.

The inner man is being well provided for by a large and competent corps of experienced cooks and stewards. A menu which it is believed will satisfy the most exacting epicure or gourmet has been prepared. It contains a host of good things to eat, made and served by those who know how.

The feature of the afternoon will be the sham battle, a vivid representation of warfare, with more than 1,000 participating. Under the leadership of actual war veterans, men who were at Vera Cruz and in the Spanish American war, an attacking party will endeavor to dislodge a defensive party, situated at the summit of what is known as "Strawberry Hill," at the northern end of the island. The defenders will be entrenched behind earthern trenches, and during the attack a landing by launches and boats will be attempted by the storming party. Several other features of warfare will be introduced. Lieutenant J. R. Morrison, who has the management of the entire carnival, is personally arranging the details of this mimic battle.

About 3 o'clock in the afternoon a trained corps of men will give an exhibition of Swedish physical training, as it is actually taught to every man in the navy. The men giving the exhibition have been selected for their excellent work. Following the Swedish drill comes the dress parade and regimental drill, with a double navy band. These drills will show the formations and tactics in which every recruit is instructed.

At 5 o'clock a full course shore dinner will be served and it is believed that this will surpass the luncheon in general excellence. Special care is being taken in its preparation, and after dinner those who wish may make a tour of the island and visit the various barracks, drill halls, buildings and points of interest.

For those who do not care to make the sight-seeing tour, six boxing bouts have been arranged. The feature will be an eight-round go, three minutes to the round, between "Frankie" Madden of New York and "Battling" Burke of Fall River. Both these boys have had actual professional experience in the roped arena, and have strong followings. They are generally conceded to be the best featherweight boxers in the navy. The other bouts will be of four two-minute rounds each, and will be between boxers of known cleverness and ability. Chief Master-at-Arms "Jack" Moore, former welter-weight champion of the navy will referee the bouts, and see that they are of the type known to fight fans as "lightning bouts."

Then comes the military ball and cabaret show, which is expected to begin at 8 o'clock. In this event it is expected the public will take a prominent part. The huge hall in Barracks "H" will comfortably accommodate 2,000 dancing couples. Thousands of electric lights have been placed on the walls and amid the trees and decorations specially prepared for the carnival. Flags, buntings, brilliant lights and clever decorations all will tend to beautify the hall. Effectively to provide for the "moonlight" waltzes and special dances, moving picture and calcium machines have been stationed on the balcony.

One of the features of the ball will be a cabaret, in which many clever specialties will be introduced. A chorus will assist the lads in singing a program of about 20 popular songs, in the intermission between dances. The ball arrangements will be in charge of Boatswain B. Schumacher.

The carnival committee, of which Lieutenant Morrison is the chairman, has been working day and night perfecting details. Excursions and arrangements to handle the huge crowds have all been provided.

BOTH TEAMS CONFIDENT.

Drawings for Match Between Aquidneck Park and Y. M. C. A. Tennis Teams.

With both teams confident of victory, the match between Aquidneck Park and the Young Men's Christian Association, to be played on the Association court Wednesday afternoon, should result in some of the best tennis seen among local players this season. Each team is composed of fast racquet wielders and steady practice for this match has put them in the best of condition. The drawings are as follows:

Singles.

Wylie, Aquidneck, vs. Lee, Y. M. C. A.

Cremin, Aquidneck, vs. Stokes, Y. M. C. A.

Sullivan, Aquidneck, vs. Jacobs, Y. M. C. A.

Kenney, Aquidneck, vs. Lawson, Y. M. C. A.

Doubles.

Kenney and Cremin, Aquidneck, vs. Lee and Jacobs, Y. M. C. A.

Wylie and Sullivan, Aquidneck, vs. Stokes and Robeson, Y. M. C. A.

The Association players look to be the favorites, but Aquidneck is confident and a big crowd will be present to root for either side.

TO FIGHT AGAINST DEMOCRATS.

Suffragists Plan Action and Raise Sum to Start the Campaign Fund.

Prominent Women Speak at Garden Party, the Concluding Gathering of Two Days' Conference.

The key-note of the private meeting of the advisory council of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, Sunday afternoon at "Marble House," was to fight the political party now in power, as responsible for the neglect to introduce the suffrage resolutions now before Congress. The Democratic party is to stand firm against a constitutional provision for woman suffrage, and the struggle between these political forces is likely to be spirited.

Following the reception at the Channing parlors Saturday afternoon there was another at the Casino parlors in the evening, at which Bishop and Mrs. Darlington, assisted by several others, received the guests. Informal addresses occupied most of the time, among those speaking being Bishop Darlington, Mrs. Alice Duer Miller and Miss Lucy Burns. At the Channing reception it was voted unanimously to support the Susan B. Anthony amendment regarding suffrage

At the business session at "Marble House" Sunday afternoon the ballroom was filled with local and visiting suffragists, and after the political plan to fight against the Democrats was passed the sum of $6,012 was raised as a start for the campaign fund. The principal speakers were Miss Lucy Burns, who discussed the attitude of the Democrats towards the suffrage amendment; Mrs. Mary Beard, who spoke regarding the party organization in Congress, and Mrs. Crystal Eastman Benedict, whose topic was organizing in the constituencies. Miss Alice Paul, chairman of the Congressional Union, then brought up the most vital topic of the session, in shaping the action to be taken against the Democrats. Following the meeting tea was served by Mrs. Belmont.

The concluding gathering of the two days' conference, Sunday evening, took the form of a garden party on the grounds of "Hilltop Cottage," Bellevue avenue, and was largely attended. The speakers sat on an improvised platform, with Congressional Union flags and a banner in the rear, in yellow with white letters, as follows: "We demand the passage of the Brislow-Mondell Amendment." "Votes for Women" banners were also seen and The Suffragist and pins and buttons were on sale. The grounds were decorated with Japanese lanterns and Conrad's orchestra played during the evening. A number of young women with purple, white and yellow sashes officiated in various capacities about the grounds and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Mrs. Donald Hooker, president of the Just Government League of Maryland, presided and introduced as the first speaker Mrs. Katherine Houghton Hepburn of Hartford, president of the Connecticut Woman Suffrage Association, first paying a tribute to Miss Alice Paul, president of the Union; Miss Lucy Burns and Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont.

Mrs. Hepburn spoke of the suppression of the white slave traffic in Hartford, largely through the efforts of the women in conducting a publicity and an educational campaign. Although the work of the women in Hartford did not count directly in votes, the results of the campaign were far reaching; first, the arousing of interest among the councilmen; second, the public education of women; third, the closing of houses of ill fame for two years; fourth, the training of a band of women who have carried on the work.

Mrs. Hooker made the collection speech and as a result largely of her ingenious methods $682.21 was raised to carry on campaign suffrage work in the West. It was voted at the Conference at "Marble House" to raise $15,000, about $6,000 of which was pledged Sunday afternoon.

The other speaker was Miss Annie Kenney of the Women's Social and Political Union of Great Britain and Ireland, who has been associated with Miss Christabel Pankhurst. She spoke in an earnest manner and held the close attention of the audience. Miss Kenney was thrown into prison for asking questions at a public meeting, and has been in prison several times and on hunger and thirst strikes. In 1867 and 1884 the men in England worked hard for their suffrage and the question of woman suffrage in England has been agitated since 1832. No methods except militant avail in England; these, however, have been suspended during the European war. The horror of civilized nations now at war shows an elementary civilization which would not be possible if women had been enfranchised years ago. Women in every sense of the word are the greatest sufferers in time of war.

Miss Kenney urged American men to put the American women on the same plane with themselves politically and thus show a shining example to the world at this time. Miss Kenney spoke of the suffering attendant upon thirst strikes, of the Cat and Mouse act in England, and of the exaltation one feels in working for what one believes to be a righteous cause.

WILLIAM J. SULLIVAN KILLED.

First Davis, Then Dillon, Supposed to be the Victim in Mix-Up of Names.

Fatal Ending to Ride When Wildly-Driven Automobile Was Struck by Fall River Trolley.

There was a fatal ending to an automobile ride just beyond the One Mile Corner early Sunday evening, William J. Sullivan, better known as "Skinny John," being killed. A coincidence is that a pleasure party visiting the beach say that they saw the car there before dark, and remembered that it was a good one to keep clear of and then later were run into by it at the other end of the city.

It was a small grey car, the property of Roy Davis, a peoman at the Training Station which he had loaned to Daniel J. Dillon, Machinist's Mate (second class), for the afternoon. It had not been returned to the Central Garage at the time promised and the first that Davis knew of the accident was when a message was brought to his boarding place that he (Davis) had been killed.

Dillon was supposed to be the one killed when Davis arrived on the scene, after the medical examiner had turned the body over to the naval hospital ambulance, though Constable Bloomfield of Middletown and the Bay State railway claim agent had made their record, on the supposition that it was Davis who was killed. Just how the officials secured the wrong name is not quite clear; some say the men in the car gave it. They refused to give their own names. Even one who was taken to the Newport Hospital gave no name at the time.

The accident occurred opposite the home of Charles H. West, about 7:30. Mr. Joseph Darling, with his wife, was going out in one machine; his brother-in-law, Dr. Theodore C. Hascall, and wife, of Riverside, following in another. Mr. Darling says he noticed the fated machine, with small oil lights, coming toward them in a zig-zag manner. While his chauffeur was holding hard to the right Mr. Darling called to those behind to look out.

The two outgoing machines were on the Providence track, crowding the Bay State rails dangerously near, because a Fall River car was coming in. As the wildly driven machine which was estimated as travelling 45 miles an hour, came to the second machine it struck it a glancing blow. The fender or running board of the machine hit tore the spokes out of the wheel of the wild car, and this sent it sharply over on the Bay State track. Before the motorman of the big trolley could stop his car the machine had been struck and dragged about 50 feet. The shock threw out Mrs. Hascall and her baby, but they escaped with slight injuries apparently.

When the trolley car was stopped Sullivan was under the guard and another man was wedged in the machine. Dr. Hascall did not observe his own party, but went to the assistance of the injured men. The car barn was called, but before the wrecking crew could start Barn Foreman Durfee, who was at Bull street, received a message on the dispatching telephone, and jumping into an automobile was on the scene and had the emergency jack, carried on the trolley car, working, releasing the dead man. A portion of the running board needed to be cut away first.

Three doctors were soon at the scene, one taking the injured man to the hospital. The city ambulance arrived, but after it came one of the occupants of the machine, who was acting in a rather dazed manner, telephoned to the naval hospital and its automobile ambulance came and took the body away, it then being understood that it was that of Davis.

Constable Bloomfield heard two distinct crashes, one as the two automobiles struck and the next when the car struck the machine. He was soon on the scene and it was not long before a large crowd had collected.

The trolley car which hit the machine was at Valley road at 7:25, and a little behind it was the grey machine. This was running in an erratic manner, though not very fast, observers state.

At the naval hospital it was discovered that the body was not that of a navy man, and it was then learned that it was Sullivan, a former cab driver but more recently a bar tender. There were five, all told, in the machine.

Sullivan received a fractured skull and undoubtedly met his death instantly. He leaves a wife and four children. Cornelius Harrington of Hall avenue was the man taken to the hospital. Also reported to have been in the car were Chief Yeoman L. P. Smith and Isidor Girr. Harrington was not seriously injured.

The police had queries from Fall River, New Bedford and other cities, asking if one of the automobiles came from there. Rumors of the accident spread fast and friends of parties from various places feared the victims might be people they knew.
